Governor promises to sign NSTL research center bill

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following report on creation of a state research and development center at NSTL by Senator Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis has been submitted to The Sea Coast Echo this week by the senator.

By SENATOR GENE TAYLOR

The possibility of a new technology center building at the NASA's National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County was in doubt for a while, but I am very pleased to report that a bill providing for its funding is on its way to the Governor for signature into law.

Last month, the Senate passed my amendment to the appropriations bill for the Mississippi Research and Development Center to include $4 million for the technology center.

However, the House Appropriations Committee did not agree to the funding of the center and removed the amendment.

The bill was then placed into a conference committee composed of three senators and three representatives to work out an agreement.

When the bill came out of the conference committee, it did not contain the center's funding at the insistence of the House conferees.

Representatives Walter Phillips, Woodsie Tate, and Curtis Holston were successful in having the House recommit the bill for further conference with instructions to include the Senate amendment for the center's funding.

Having seen that the House was willing to go along with the Senate position, the Senate also recommit the bill.

The final bill adopted by both houses contains the center's funding.

During deliberations on the bill, we emphasized the great benefits which the center would bring to the state. Not only would Hancock County realize some 250 to 275 new jobs which NASA statistics say should pay around $30,000 each annually because of their high technology nature, but the center will also benefit the entire state because it should enhance the state's economic development activities, generate high impact jobs, develop spin-off industry, and help in the transferring of technology from the space laboratory to the public and the private sectors.

I believe that the center is a step toward creating the type of economic climate which will allow our young people to find employment in high paying jobs here in Mississippi.

We cannot continue to send our best educated young people out of the state in order for them to find jobs with compensation worthy of their abilities.

The center will be known as the Mississippi Technology Transfer Center and the state will construct, furnish and equip the 50,000 square foot building which will then be operated by NASA at no further cost to the state.

It will allow growth of the existing agencies, location of new agencies, establishment of a Center for Excellence for Remote Sensing to be staffed and operated by the Mississippi Institute of Technology Development, expansion of the Mississippi Technology Transfer Office, and provide space for institutions of higher learning to use for research projects.

I appreciate the support of the Senate and the House in funding this project.

The entire Coastal delegation, and in particular Representatives Phillips, Tate and Holston and Senator Martin Smith, were of the greatest assistance in securing the passage of this measure.

I spoke with Governor Allain Tuesday and he assured me he would sign the bill. I believe that this will prove to be a sound investment by the State of Mississippi.

John Scafide elected chairman of Beach Advisory Committee

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis attorney John A. Scafide Jr. was elected chairman; and Ray Kidd, Waveland businessman, vice-chairman of the Hancock County Sand Beach Technical Advisory Council Wednesday evening.

Ralph M. Field, of Ralph M. Field Associates Urban and Environmental Planning in Westport, Conn., discussed his firm's objectives in the Hancock-Harrison Sand Beach Improvement Project with the Hancock Advisory Council members.

Jeff Taylor, Gulf Regional Planning Commission representative, advised the members of an up-coming tour set for next Wednesday and Thursday in Gulf Shores, Ala., and the Florida cities of Pensacola, Destin and Panama City by the two county advisory committees.

The trip is sponsored by the Executive Council of the Hancock-Harrison Counties Sand Beach Plan and the Bureau of Marine Resources.

Field's firm will provide overall project management and preparation of the master plan for the project.

Ace Torre, consultant who met with the advisory council two weeks ago, will develop the design strategy and "physical" master plan layout from the results of the overall process.

Field said, "This is an exciting project for Hancock and Harrison Counties. The beachfront is practically clear to make what you want to."

"Other beachfront areas are crowded with commercial and condo developments, and in the 30-40 miles of the area we will be dealing with there is very little of this," Fields added.

The Hancock advisory council members were told at their last meeting by an engineer from the coastal branch Corps of Engineers there may be federal interest in restoring the beach.

Public input into the project is very important, Field emphasized.

Taylor showed a brief film of the areas to be visited by the group.

Ten-year sentences suspended

Overcrowding saves two from Parchman

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Two Hancock County residents avoided being sent to the Mississippi State Penitentiary at Parchman this week after entering a plea of guilty to burglary charges because of overcrowding at the prison.

Circuit Judge James Thomas suspended 10-year sentences for Randy Powell, 18, and George Singleton, 19, Wednesday morning.

Thomas warned Powell and Singleton not to be "...so quick with sighs of relief..." after suspending the sentences.

"Overcrowding is the only reason you are not being sent to the penitentiary," the judge stated.

"If they had enough room, I would send you up right now," Thomas added.

Although Thomas suspended the sentences he placed both Powell and Singleton on five-years probation and placed them in the custody of the Jackson County Restitution Center.

"I don't think you deserve probation because you are both old enough and smart enough to know better," Thomas said.

He warned Powell and Singleton that if they got into any more trouble they would be back before him and that he would revoke their probation and send them to Parchman.

Thomas also told them that if they violated their probation and were sent to Parchman, they would not likely be paroled very quickly.

While at the restitution center jobs will be found for Powell and Singleton and their salaries will be used to make restitution, pay court costs and attorneys' fees.

Circuit court continues this week with a manslaughter trial scheduled for Friday.

The trial for Walter Bodden, who allegedly killed Carlos Cordoba, was continued from earlier in the week.

Aldermen postpone selection of prison work center site

By DENA BISNETTE

The Waveland Board of Aldermen has postponed site selection for a proposed community work center (CWC) for minimum security prisoners.

Instead, the board will first try to make the 75-bed rehabilitation facility into a joint project with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the City of Bay St. Louis.

The aldermen had expected to meet with the supervisors Tuesday, but only Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge responded to an invitation to meet with the board.

He said most of the other supervisors had not yet returned from a visit to a modular jail facility in Ocala, Fla.

The board set a meeting with the supervisors for April 17 after briefly discussing the proposed CWC, which the county had previously considered as a project.

The county, however, had abandoned the project after a group of Kiln residents objected to a proposed site near Stennis Airport.

Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr. and other officials have said at prior meetings that they believe the county proposal for the CWC was defeated by public opinion because people did not understand what kind of prisoners would be kept at the facility.

"We have been told since we gave up the project that there is even more need for prisoner housing," Courge said Tuesday. He cited recent news reports concerning the proposed release of state prisoners due to overcrowding at the penitentiary at Parchman.

He said he still feels that the county and both cities can benefit from the free labor the prisoners would supply.

"The presentation the state prison officials gave us last time we met was really convincing to us," Longo said. "At first this idea was frightening, but now we can see the benefits with no frightening effects."

A meeting with the supervisors has been tentatively set for April 17 at Waveland City Hall.

Longo said he planned to discuss the matter with Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett Wednesday and hopes to have some representatives of the Bay St. Louis city council at the April 17 meeting.

In other business, the board heard from Delmar Wilcox and Gerald Gex, who with Dr. Donald Egan donated four acres of land on Waveland Avenue to the city.

The land will be used to establish a park with a children's playground. At the request of those making the donation, the park will be named for Egan in honor of his medical contributions to crippled children.

In addition, the city authorized engineer Ray Eaton to look into the possibilities of obtaining grant funding for the development of the park.

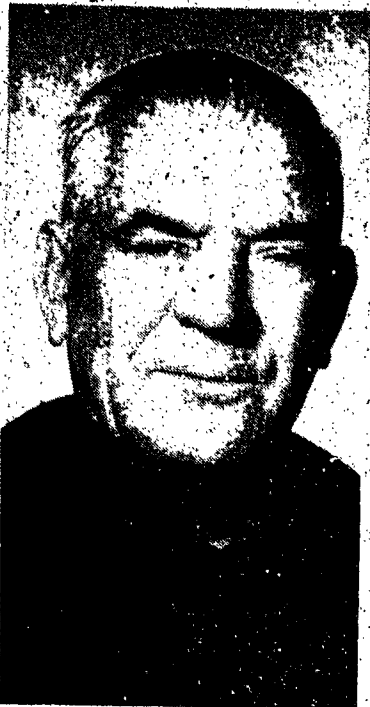

In other business, the board discussed problems with trash being dumped in city streets; approved the payment of $200 per month to the Chamber of Commerce for promotion of the city; appointed Ardley Hannermann to the Hancock County Animal Control Commission and moved the city zoning board meeting time to 5 p.m. on the last Monday of the month.

Medical assistants review Medicare

Changes in the Medicare Program pertaining to physicians was the topic of Martha Barrett of the Medicare Claims Department in Jackson.

Barrett who is supervisor of Provider Relations and Electronic Media Claims was guest speaker at the Medical Assistants monthly meeting at Western Sizzlin' Steak House, Gulfport on Tuesday, March 26.

One of the changes which went into effect on July 1, 1984 was the freezing of fees which physicians are allowed to charge. This will continue through Sept. 30, 1985.

Education chairperson Quin Bloom announced plans for an upcoming educational symposium to be held on the Coast in June.

All members planning to attend the state convention in Tupelo Apr. 19-21 are asked to bring a copy of their state by-laws as some changes are to be made.

The next meeting will be Apr. 23 at the same location. Dr. William H. Murdock who specializes in pediatric dentistry will be guest speaker.

Soil Conservation Service

By Doug Stephens

Hancock County Soil Conservationist

Have you ever wanted to know what type soil you have in your yard and why water stands on it? A Soil Survey can give you the answers. Hancock County has a published Soil Survey.

The information contained in the Soil Survey can be used in land use planning programs. It contains predictions of soil behavior for selected land uses.

The survey also highlights limitations and hazards inherent in the soil, improvements needed to overcome the limitations, and the impact of selected land uses on the environment.

Whether you are a homeowner, farmer, realtor, urban planner, or gardener, you could use the information in the soil survey.

Copies of the survey are in the public library and at the Soil Conservation Service.

A seminar on how to use the survey is planned for Monday, April 8, 2 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Public Library.

Rex Davis, USDA soil scientist, will answer any questions at the program sponsored by the Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The Hancock County Extension Club annual International Tasters Tea will be Friday, April 12 at the Hancock County Fairgrounds building from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Several county homemakers clubs will prepare dishes to be served at the team.

Among the dishes to be served are Sushi and Tsujitura, Japanese fortune wafers. Both these dishes will be served at the Riverview Club booth.

The Crafty Club will be representing Ireland by preparing Irish stew and Irish soda bread.

Italian beef casserole prepared by the So Sews from Coast Electric representing Italy is another of the tasty dishes to be offered.

Mexico featured by the Stitch and Sip Club will be serving nachos and tamale balls.

The Learning Ladies are featuring Indian family curry as their dish and representing India.

Brigadeiros and spicy meat ball soup from Guatemala will be featured in the Live Oaks booth.

Food from each country will be tasted at the booth showing articles from that country.

Cookbooks featuring the recipes for the food served will be on sale for 50 cents each.

Advance tickets are on sale from Homemaker Club members for a donation of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Tickets will also be available at the door.

There will be drawings for door prizes donated by each club.

The Homemakers Mini Fair will also be on display at this time. The fair will feature cultural arts items by club members, which will be in several mediums including painting, sculpture, ceramics and pottery, stitchery and creative crafts.

First place winners in each division of the fair will be eligible to compete on the state level.

State Historical Museum seeking Mississippi antebellum furniture

A statewide search for pre-1865 Mississippi-made furniture, being conducted by the State Historical Museum in Jackson, continues to turn up many fine examples of cabinetry and craftsmanship, thanks to numerous interested residents.

According to Patti Carr Black, director of the museum, "Citizens, who have heard about our project and think they may have something of interest in their homes, have generously welcomed us to examine the pieces of furniture. More than 100 private residences have been visited so far."

Partially funded by a $20,000 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the survey continues into the summer.

The end result of the work will be a photographic catalog to be used by art historians and others pursuing studies in Southern decorative arts.

In addition, the project is intended to be a consciousness-raising effort, helping Mississippians realize the historical significance and quality of their furniture.

To facilitate the work necessary in locating, examining, and documenting pieces of furniture in all parts of the state, four researchers—two Archives and History staff members and two outside furniture experts—are working on the project.

They have divided the territory into four regions, making one person responsible for communicating with interested parties in each area.

Helen Cain of Jackson is one of the four traveling across the state. "My region, north central and northwest Mississippi, has pockets of vast resources in the furniture category," Cain said.

"Holly Springs, for example, had several cabinet shops and cabinet-makers as early as 1836. We discovered this in a group of old courthouse records that recorded furniture being ordered for the courthouse at that time."

These papers, which are part of the city's police records, illustrate just one of the places in a specific locale where we can begin looking.

Discoveries like this, when shared with the citizens of a community, help stir up local interest and enthusiasm.

Marnie Brown, curator of the Governor's Mansion and another researcher, explained, "When hearing of our work, people gradually begin to take mental inventory of their furniture—often pieces they have been using for a lifetime without wondering about the origins. Then they contact us to take a look, and together, with any available information, we try to determine the piece's date and manufacturer."

The search is a very gentle art. The researchers like to take time to talk with their contacts, look over any family papers, diaries, and journals that may indicate business with a certain cabinetmaker, and listen to family stories that have been passed for years from one generation to another.

"Often, so much information can be garnered over a cup of coffee and cookies," said Brown.

"The actual examination of the furniture is just as, or more, time-consuming," observed Cain.

"We write a description of the piece, including exterior woods, interior woods, and load-bearing parts. We take drawers out, reconstruct the piece in our heads to be ever-cognizant of various construction methods used and by whom, and we photograph the furniture from every angle."

The catalog resulting from the study will be compiled from the research of Cain, Brown, and the two other researchers; curator of the Museum collection Mary Lorenz, and Bethany Lambdin of Natchez.

In addition to these four workers, a team of advisors is helping with the survey. Seventeen individuals from all areas of the state are serving as liaisons between the researchers and local furniture holders.

"Without these dedicated contacts, our work would be slow-going," said Cain.

All of the researchers stressed one important point: because the survey is dependent on many citizens sharing their private holdings with the researchers, confidentiality is guaranteed.

"In the catalog, owners and locations of the furniture will not be identified," emphasized Black.

"Anyone who owns Mississippi-made furniture is urged to contact the Museum in Jackson."

Even pieces only thought or presumed to have been made in the state will be of interest to the researchers. The Museum number is (601)354-6222. Written correspondence should be mailed to P.O. Box 571, Jackson, Ms 39205.

THIS MISSISSIPPI-MADE BOOKCASE was built into the room of a Lowndes County home sometime after 1853. Most of the exterior wood used for this piece is mahogany.

EDITORIAL

April is a time to salute industry

April has been designated as "A Salute to Industry Month" in Mississippi...a special time to say "Thank you" to the more than 2,600 manufacturers who provide jobs and incomes to families throughout the state.

Attraction of new industry has become keenly competitive and that's a fact of economic life which ought to make us just as keenly appreciative of what we have.

Governor Bill Allain has said that the Mississippi Department of Economic Development will have as its highest priority the continued well-being of our existing industry, including a business climate that is healthy and attractive.

That's as it should be. Our Mississippi industries are important taxpayers and they are consumers both at the local and state levels, continually pumping dollars back into our economy. Thanks to our industries, more than 211,000 of the state's work force have jobs—jobs which in 1984 produced an annual payroll in excess of $3 billion.

And our industries make many other contributions to their communities from building recreation facilities to contributing to charities to helping our educational facilities to providing leadership—all a part of their overall contribution to a continuing better way of life for our families. And they pay taxes to all levels of government.

We believe that expressing our appreciation to existing industries will make them continue to feel at home in Mississippi and encourage them to make future expansions right here in the state. And we believe that our appreciation of the industry will be a positive influence on new industries locating in Mississippi.

We think it appropriate that a special month be set aside to recognize our industry—particularly those companies located right here in Hancock County. And we urge every citizen to join in expressing appreciation, in saying "Thank you" and in doing all we can to keep industry working for all of us.

HOUSEKEEPING

A Weekly Summary Of
Mississippi House
Of Representatives

By Andrew Reese
House Information Officer

Like a budget-conscious housewife doing the family shopping, the Mississippi House of Representatives rolled into the waning days of the 1985 legislative session working to make sure state spending does not outstrip revenue projections for the coming year.

Finances remained a top item going into the current week, slated to be the final week of the historic and sometimes hectic 90-day session. House-Senate conference committees wrestled long hours during the past week with a mountain of appropriation bills to fund state agencies and institutions.

The Legislative Budget Committee also met last week to update revenue estimates following the latest report from tax officials on general fund collections in recent months. Overall, the general fund budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is expected to total more than $1.5 billion.

As usual, more than 60 percent of the state's general operating budget is earmarked for education, including the universities and junior colleges along with public school districts. Other multi-million dollar expenditures include annual funding for public health and welfare programs, mental health, hospitals, the Department of Public Safety, Medicaid, homestead exemption reimbursements, and operation of the penal system.

Most of the appropriation bills were passed earlier in the session by the House and Senate but in different amounts. The measures were assigned to conference committees to thrash out differences between the two chambers and make the necessary adjustments to keep spending in balance with state income.

Numerous other bills also were sent to conference in the closing days as the session neared completion. In addition, action was completed on a growing stack of bills and the measures went to the governor.

Some of the bills recently signed into law by the governor included a measure boosting state payments to schools in 24 North Mississippi counties that don't have 16th Section School lands. The Act authorizes an increase in the coming year from $62,191 to $1 million for the Chickasaw Cession counties and further increases in succeeding years until the payment reaches $5 million a year.

The governor also signed a measure raising Mississippi's drinking age from 18 to 21 for beer and light wine, effective Oct. 1, 1986, to coincide with a new federal law. The legal age limit already is 21 for liquor. The new law also contains stiffer penalties aimed at cracking down on unlawful sales of alcoholic beverages to young people.

The thorny issue of school consolidation was laid to rest when the governor allowed a bill to become law without his signature that removes the mandatory consolidation provision from the 1982 Educational Reform Act. Proponents maintained consolidation was an effort to improve efficiency and academic quality, but many lawmakers feared it would result in the eventual closing of some good, community schools over the state.

The Mississippi House completed action last week on a potentially far-reaching bill to regulate use of ground water supplies, concurring in some Senate amendments to the measure. Backers said the legislation is designed to help avert a future water crisis. Along with other provisions, the bill directs the state Commission on Natural Resources to develop a statewide water management plan and sets up a permit system for ground water use.

Other measures winning final legislative approval included a measure to increase marriage license fees from $6 to $20 to help finance domestic violence centers; extend the state's immunity to damage suits for another year; and require completion of a hunter education course before a person can buy a hunting license. The hunter education course, an attempt to reduce accidents, would apply to anyone born on or after Jan. 1, 1972.

A proposed constitutional amendment to give extra protection to the Public Employees Retirement System received final approval and now goes to the people for ratifica-

MISSISSIPPI'S TAX EFFORT

Mississippi legislators, wrestling with the problems of funding state government, will do well to consider a tax formula advanced by the Washington-based Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

ACIR has devised a "Representative Tax System" which measures both the tax capacity and the tax effort of a state. "Tax Capacity" relates to the level of economic resources within a state which are potentially taxable. "Tax Effort" is the ratio of a state's actual tax collections to its tax capacity.

The national organization has been using this formula for measuring the tax efforts of the states for several years now. ACIR's evaluation of Mississippi's tax effort is worth noting.

Among twelve states in the southeastern section of the United States, Mississippi ranks second in tax payments based on ability to pay.

The latest ACIR report indicates Mississippi is taxing its citizens—private and corporate—at 96 percent of tax capacity, second only to Louisiana in the Southeast.

Legislators will do well to remember this as the pressures build for additional tax dollars.

A statewide referendum will be held in November, 1986, on the proposal which specifies that all assets and proceeds of the retirement system shall be used for benefits, refunds or administrative expenses under the direction of the governing board of the system.

Recent visitors to the State Capitol included former Governor Cliff Finch, who was present for the unveiling of his official portrait to hang in the Hall of Governors, and several members of the Mississippi State University cheerleading squad. The House adopted a resolution earlier commending the MSU cheerleaders for finishing second in a national competition in January.

Bay St. Louis election is only a few weeks away and candidates are beginning to campaign.

We would like to remind supporters of candidates there are laws and ordinances against the posting of signs on utility poles.

In prior elections we have even noted bumper stickers and posters on road signals and this is also illegal.

We feel this is also a good time to remind everyone who is not registered to vote in Bay St. Louis that the deadline is 30 days before an election. Registration can be either at the Bay City Hall or the Hancock County Courthouse.

The Bay St. Louis Primary elections will be held on May 14.

The warm weather has gotten many folks out in the yards working on flower and garden plots. You can tell it is planting time by the number of gnats that attack you.

Lawns are beginning to grow, or a least many of our weed varieties, so this means getting the old lawn mowers out.

Many of our residents take pride in their yards and we really appreciate their hard work.

We would like to suggest to some residents to also cut the area between their property line and streets. We see many people who do this and it sure improves the appearance of their property.

One of our neighbors is a Den Mother for a Cub Scout Troop and in doing a good deed last week they proceeded to pickup litter.

Their intentions were to make it around one block and took along three garbage bags.

That would have meant covering four blocks of area, but, they ran into a problem.

In covering less than one block they collected three totally filled garbages of litter.

This is one of the problems that appears to face every neighborhood throughout our county.

We do have to commend the Cub Scouts on their good deed and need many more groups like them.

We could have a litter free community if EVERYONE wanted it that way.

McLeod State Park on Texas Flat Road appears to get more and more improvements each year.

It is a very lovely park and is used by many residents, yet there are many who have never been to the place.

This season's additions include a recently constructed volleyball court, and an enlarged picnic area by the Pearl River Basin Development District.

One thing still needed is to have the road surfaced and who knows, that may happen one day.

State doctors decry
tax on sick and poor

The president of the Mississippi State Medical Association, Dr. Ellis M. Moffitt of Jackson, feels that "members of the Mississippi Legislature who voted for a sales tax on professional services of physicians had placed a tax on the sick and poor of Mississippi."

"A sales tax, whether it's on food, cars, or in this case health services, is in effect an added cost to consumers," Moffitt added, "and in this instance the consumers are the sick and the poor."

Moffitt further stated that it was ironic that the Mississippi Legislature would vote for a tax on health services at a time when the public was concerned about increasing health costs. The public should remember this when they seek reelection," he concluded.

The Mississippi State Medical Association is the professional association of more than 2,200 Mississippi physicians.

REGULARS AT FARMERS MARKET—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spears of Carriere, just across the line in Pearl River County, are regulars at the Hancock County Farmers Market offering home grown shrubs and flowering plants. Spears said he burned a lot of fuel during January to keep his greenhouse warm and already has many plants in bloom. This photo was taken last Saturday morning of the couple at the market located at the Hancock County Fairgrounds on Longfellow Road and they plan on being there again on Saturday. In Mississippi gardens

Early vegetables often inspire winter planting

By Dr. Milo Burnham
Horticulturist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Only a few vegetables serve as a forerunner of spring since they can be planted early. They are the favorites of housebound gardeners and can inspire the cranking up of the tiller in what appears to many to be mid-winter. These vegetables are Irish potatoes, onions, English peas and cabbage.

Potatoes

I've heard stories of bumper crops from April planted potatoes, but so far I've never seen them. The best potato crops result from plantings made in January and February.

Irish potatoes take a long time to produce a crop and since they fair poorly in hot weather, gardeners must plant early while there is still a good chance for freezing temperatures and frosts.

Several varieties of Irish potatoes that home gardeners should consider planting are Red LaSoda, LaChippie, Superior, Norland, Norchip, Red Pontiac and Atlantic. Gardeners, however, usually wind up planting what their local seed source supplies regardless of whether or not it is a recommended variety.

Irish potatoes are grown from pieces of potatoes that are called seed potatoes. Each seed piece should weigh between 1½ and two ounces, but rather than weight the pieces just plan on one pound of seed potatoes for every 10-row-feet of garden.

Cut the pound of potatoes into ten similar pieces making sure each piece has at least one eye. Cut the seed potatoes about one week before planting and hold them in a single layer at 60° F to allow the cut surfaces to heal.

Small, whole potatoes also may be used as seed potatoes. Potatoes sold in the grocery store for eating usually fail to sprout and therefore make poor seed potatoes.

Scab is a serious disease of Irish potatoes that can be controlled by planting in soils with a moderately acid pH. A soil pH of 5.5 is adequate and potato soils should not be limed to raise the pH above 5.5.

Gardeners should have soil tested to determine the type and amount of fertilizer to mix in prior to planting the seed pieces. At planting time set the seed pieces three to four inches deep and about one foot apart in the row.

English Peas

English peas have changed a great deal in recent years and there are so many new varieties that selecting a good variety presents a real problem to gardeners. A fact to keep in mind when selecting peas is that the varieties with smooth seeds are not as sweet as those with wrinkled seeds.

Lately pea breeders have been working on developing peas resistant to fusarium wilt, powdery mildew, root rot and virus while improving yield and appearance. Some of the newer varieties are even almost leafless as the leaves have been reduced to tendrils.

Two such varieties are Novella and Lacy Lady. Old pea varieties like Alaska, Thomas Laxton, Little Marvel and Wando may become more difficult to locate as the newer varieties take over.

Peas can be planted almost as soon as the soil is dry enough to work. Place the seeds about one inch deep and one inch apart in the row. The varieties that grow two feet tall or taller will require some type of support or consider planting two rows close together on a bed to support each other.

Peas with edible pods are rapidly becoming popular enough to take over some of the standard English pea plantings. Since the first variety, Sugar Snap, an All-American Selection Gold Medal winner, was introduced several years ago there have been a number of edible pod varieties introduced. The new one this year is Sugar Daddy the first stringless sugar pea.

Onions

Early salad onions can be planted using transplants available in bundles or the small dry bulbs called sets. For green salad onions plant the transplants or sets about an inch apart and harvest when large enough to use. When planting for dry bulb onions, plant the transplants or sets about four inches apart or thin plantings with closer spacing using the thinnings for salad onions.

Cabbage

Cabbage, the last of the early vegetables discussed here is widely available as bundles of bare-root transplants. Most of these plants will grow off to nice heads of spring cabbage.

Check with local plant distributors on the dates for delivery of plants so that they will be fresh.

Space the plants about one foot apart in the row. Cabbage plants will withstand temperatures down to the low to mid-20's but cooler temperatures may injure the plants, so be prepared to provide some protection if extremely low temperatures are expected.

Even though these vegetables must be planted early to insure success, gardeners should use their common sense in making the decision on when to plant. Wait for predicted freezing weather to pass and plant on rows or beds high enough to escape flooding from spring rains.

IRS tip

SCHEDULES C AND F

Taxpayers filing Schedules C or F with their Form 1040's may have to answer the "at risk" question on the schedules or face a possible delay in the processing of their tax return, according to Sylvia Wren, director of the Internal Revenue Service in Mississippi.

All Schedule C or F filers who are claiming a net loss from their business farm must respond to the question, "Do you have amounts for which you are not at risk in this business?" The question appears on Line 33 of Schedule C, "Profit or (Loss) From Business or Profession" and Line 57 or Line 90 of Schedule F, "Farm Income and Expenses."

Taxpayers who do not initially answer the question may have their tax returns sent back or receive a letter from the IRS requesting that they complete the forms. In either case, a delay of up to six weeks in the processing of these tax returns may result. If the taxpayers still do not supply this information, the loss claimed on the return will be disallowed by the IRS.

A further explanation of the term "amount not at risk" can be found in the instructions for both Schedules C and F. If the taxpayer answers "yes," Form 6198, "Computation of Deductible Loss From an Activity Described in Section 465(c)," must also be attached to the return. No additional attachments are needed for a negative response to the "at risk" question.

FEDERAL TAX DEPOSITS

The Internal Revenue Service Centers have had a significant increase in receipts of incomplete or incorrect Federal Tax Deposits. The problem this poses is the delay in posting the payment to the correct account and could result in notices for payment.

Center officials note that incorrect employer identification numbers and incorrect names are the two most common errors. These errors could be eliminated by checking the employer identification number and the name of the account when the coupon booklet arrives.

If there is an error, another booklet should be ordered. In the interim, the incorrect coupons can be used if the erroneous information is marked through and the correct information is written.

Other common problems involve Federal Tax Deposits that do not indicate which type of tax or period is involved or use one coupon for multiple payments. If the type of tax is not marked, the payment will automatically be posted to the 941 account.

If the period on the coupon is blank, the payment will be posted in one of two ways. Payments received in the first month of the quarter between the 1st and the 15th will be posted to the prior quarter. Payments received from the 16th of the first month through the balance of the quarter will be posted to the current quarter.

VA benefits handbook available

The Veterans Administration's 1985 benefits handbook detailing the services available to eligible veterans and their dependents has been published and is available to the public from the Superintendent of Documents in Washington, D.C.

The 88-page handbook, "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents," is produced annually by the VA and printed by the Government Printing Office.

Samuel J. Maraman, VA regional office director, advises that among the VA benefits outlined in the handbook are medical care, education, compensation, pension, insurance, home loan guaranty, job training, and burial assistance. There is also information on medical benefits for veterans who were exposed to Agent Orange and radiation, and for veterans suffering from post traumatic stress disorder.

Employment assistance and other Department of Labor benefits for veterans are described as well as benefits provided by the Department of Defense and other government offices.

The handbook lists the addresses and local phone numbers of all VA offices, medical centers, national cemeteries, Vietnam veteran counseling centers, and other VA facilities.

The benefits handbook can be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402. The stock number is 051-000-00170-2 and the cost is $2.50.

For additional information or assistance, call the VA Regional Office toll-free at 1-800-682-5270 statewide; in the Biloxi/Gulfport area call 432-5996.

Olin bids for aerospace bucks

Olin Corporation and Rockcor, Inc., jointly announced the execution of a merger agreement providing for the acquisition of Rockcor by Olin.

Pursuant to the merger agreement, Olin will make a cash tender offer for all outstanding shares of Rockcor's common stock at $19.50 per share and all outstanding Rockcor 9 percent convertible subordinated debentures due 2000 at $1.150 per $1,000 principal amount of debentures.

The tender offer will be conditioned, among other things, on the tender of Rockcor common shares and Rockcor debentures representing or convertible into an aggregate of 3,000,000 Rockcor common shares.

The Rockcor debentures are convertible into Rockcor common shares at the equivalent of $17 per share.

As a result, Rockcor adjourned its 1985 annual meeting of shareholders March 19 to a date after the expiration of the tender offer.

Rockcor also has granted Olin an option to purchase up to 875,000 unissued shares of Rockcor common stock at $19.50 per share.

Rockcor's board of directors has unanimously approved the offer and recommended that Rockcor security-holders accept the offer and tender their shares of common stock and debentures.

Following successful completion of the offer, Rockcor will be merged with a wholly owned subsidiary of Olin Corporation and each share of Rockcor common stock not purchased pursuant to the offer will be converted into the right to receive $19.50 in cash.

Untendered debentures of Rockcor will be called for redemption immediately prior to the merger.

Completion of the transactions contemplated by the offer, the merger agreement and the stock option agreement are subject to various conditions, including receipt of any required regulatory approvals.

Olin and Rockcor expect to file pre-merger notification forms under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act as soon as practicable.

Morgan Lewis Githens & Ahn, Inc., will act as dealer manager in connection with the offer. Georgeson & Co., Inc., will act as information agent in connection with the offer.

Dillon, Read & Co., Inc. is acting as financial advisor to Rockcor.

Rockcor, together with its subsidiaries, is an advanced technology company principally engaged in the research, development and manufacture of products for the aerospace and defense industry and develops and manufactures products for the telecommunications industry.

Olin Corporation is primarily a manufacturer of chemical and metal products and ammunition.

Its chemical products include commodity and specialty industrial chemicals and consumer chemicals.

Olin metal products include copper alloy sheet, strip, tube and fabricated parts, nickel alloys and stainless steel strip.

Ammunition is manufactured for both sporting and defense markets.

Bank officials conduct seminar

Hancock Bank trust department officials, Charles L. Eastland and Mart Melton Jr. and attorney Harris Barnes III recently conducted a trust and estate planning seminar for military and federal service retirees at the Keesler Air Force Base Officers Club.

Approximately 40 persons attended the seminar.

Eastland, vice president and trust officer at Hancock Bank, discussed the advantages of individual retirement accounts, and Melton, vice president and senior trust officer, outlined the benefits of establishing a trust account as a means of protecting and enhancing retirement funds for individuals and beneficiaries.

Barnes, a Gulfport attorney who specializes in tax law and estate planning, led a discussion on the interaction of wills, trust funds, trust accounts and estate planning.

This seminar, the first of its kind presented under the auspices of Hancock Bank, is in keeping with the bank's recently established program to provide banking services especially tailored to meet the needs of the retired military community.

The program is under the direction of Col. (Ret.) Henry W. Boardman, director of military programs for Hancock Bank. Plans to hold more seminars of this type, as well as seminars dealing with other aspects of banking and personal money management, are now underway.

Anyone interested in attending these seminars may contact Col. Boardman at 868-4480 for additional information.

Tax Tips from IRS

Community volunteers provide free assistance to low-income taxpayers with the preparation of their income tax returns. Taxpayers needing assistance should call toll-free (1-800-424-1040) for the location and hours of assistance.

Taxpayers needing assistance should plan to visit the assistance site at their earliest convenience and be sure to bring their Form W-2 Withholding Statement from all places of employment in 1984. They should also bring the tax package received in the mail, if available, so that the name and address label can be used to speed up processing.

Humane society installs officers

Founder and past president of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society Lolly Backlund was recently installed for another term as president.

Backlund received the gavel from outgoing president Cel Dumestre. Other new officers installed include, Cindy Duarte, vice president; Beth Garcia, recording secretary; Edna Isom, corresponding secretary; and Frances Pike, treasurer.

Valerie Fisher, Laurie Ling and Marge Thomas were named as new board members.

Several changes are expected to be made in the society during the next year including renaming the society as the Hancock County Humane Society.

The society would like to remind the public that one half of the fees to have a pet neutered or spayed will be paid by the society.

Southern Company fourth quarter results show slight decline

"Our results for the fourth quarter show a slight decline, but the substantial gains we achieved in the previous three quarters made the year 1984 one of the strongest in our history," Southern Company President Edward L. Addison said recently.

The Atlanta-based Southern Company is the parent firm of four electric utilities: Alabama Power, Georgia Power, Gulf Power, and Mississippi Power. The Southern Company's common stock is the most widely held electric utility stock in the nation and is one of the 20 most widely held corporate stocks in America.

Addison announced that earnings for the year 1984 totaled $720 million or $3 per share—an increase of $129 million or 30 cents per share over the levels recorded in 1983.

For the fourth quarter of 1984, net income was $155 million or 62 cents per share—down $7 million or 9 cents per share from the fourth quarter of a year ago.

Commenting on the company's performance, Addison noted that "...effective cost controls, ongoing sales of energy to neighboring utilities, and substantial increases in electricity use across the four-state area were the major factors that fueled our earnings growth during the year." He added that the economic expansion in the southeast created especially strong requirements for electricity in the commercial and industrial sectors.

Consumption of energy by business during 1984 climbed 6.7 percent to 20.1 billion kilowatt-hours. Industrial use of electricity rose 9.7 percent, reaching 38.5 billion kilowatt-hours. Residential energy needs also increased—growing 2.8 percent to 25.3 billion kilowatt-hours despite relatively mild temperatures during the summer and fall.

Energy sales under long-term contracts with neighboring utilities totaled 18.8 billion kilowatt-hours in 1984—an increase of 56 percent from the previous year. This increase in "off-system" sales reflects the impact of a long-term contract which went into effect during the year with Gulf States Utilities Company headquartered in Beaumont, Texas.

Overall, sales of electricity to customers of the Southern electric system—including neighboring utilities—were up 12.2 percent in 1984. This was the largest increase in more than 15 years.

Addison said that these statistics do not reflect the impact of the freezing temperatures which blanketed much of the region in late January. During that cold wave, demand for electricity reached an all-time high for the winter months. The new winter record of 20.8 million kilowatts—established on Jan. 21, 1985—surpassed by 16 percent the previous record set in 1982.

EPA reports eye impact of greenhouse effect

Three reports by the Environmental Protection Agency discuss the possible impacts of the greenhouse effect in coming decades and the relevance of those impacts to today's activities.

"Can We Delay a Greenhouse Warming?" analyzes the effectiveness of possible options to slow the build-up of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere and the resulting rise in global temperatures.

The report concludes that a two degree warming by 2065 can not be avoided, and recommends that society begin to prepare for the consequences. (055-000-00235-5, $8).

"Projecting Future Sea Level Rise: Methodology, Estimates to the Year 2100, and Research Needs" estimates that sea level is likely to rise 4 to 7 feet by 2100, but that a rise as low as 1½ or as high as 12 feet can not be ruled out.

The report discusses the impacts of such a rise and the possibility of reducing economic and environmental losses by planning for them.

The report concludes by outlining the additional research that must be undertaken to provide more accurate forecasts of future sea level rise. (055-000-00236-3, $5).

"Potential Climatic Impacts of Increasing Atmospheric CO₂ with Emphasis on Water Availability and Hydrology in the United States" presents a methodology for estimating the hydrologic impact of increased carbon dioxide in the atmosphere.

The study focuses on possible changes in precipitation.

It also discusses future research efforts needed to enhance society's ability to respond to changes resulting from the greenhouse effect. (055-000-00241-0, $4.50)

These reports are available from Dept. 36-HM, Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402. Send prepayment, or to order by VISA or MasterCard call (202) 783-3233.

FmHA offers additional credit help for farmers

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is making changes in its regulations to encourage commercial lenders to help their farm borrowers who are having economic problems by taking advantage of the FmHA's debt adjustment program, according to Jackie D. Williams, county supervisor.

The debt adjustment program is part of the Farm Credit Initiatives announced by President Reagan last September. It is designed to help banks and other lenders reduce the amount of loan payments down to a level farmers can afford.

The program allows FmHA to guarantee a portion of farm loans owed to banks and other lenders under certain conditions. FmHA agrees to make up part of the loss to the lender if the borrower defaults. This government guarantee makes it possible for the lenders to stay with their farm borrowers longer than they could otherwise.

The new regulations will help banks and other lenders cooperate with the program by allowing them to write down interest in exchange for the government guarantee. Previously, they were required to write off a minimum of ten percent of the principal of the loan.

When the change becomes effective, they can reduce the loan through interest or principal or a combination of both.

Under another part of the President's Farm Credit Initiatives, FmHA is reviewing loans of its own borrowers. So far, in Hancock County, Jackie Williams said FmHA has been able to adjust loans for three farmers. FmHA county supervisors will be getting additional staff help from other U.S. Department of Agriculture agencies to review FmHA loans.

FmHA also has selected expert credit teams that will assist farm borrowers if the bank they have loans with has failed. In addition, the agency is cooperating with state and other agriculture agencies and groups to establish a "hot line" telephone service in some areas.

The Agriculture Department is working closely with other federal and regulatory agencies such as the Treasury Department, the Farm Credit Administration, the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) to provide whatever help they can for farm borrowers in economic trouble, Williams said.

public relations director of Memorial Hospital at Gulfport.

"The free health screenings will include blood pressure, pulmonary function, anemia, vision, height and weight, summary and referral and followup by the Gulf Coast hospitals," Reid said.

She explained that blood chemistry tests, which normally cost $65 will be processed by Med-Path Labs in conjunction with the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations, Inc. for a $10 charge to cover actual expenses. "Persons desiring blood chemistry testing should fast for two hours prior to the test," she said.

"The Health Fair would not have been possible," said Salloum, "without the outstanding participation of all the hospitals and health care organizations." Those include: Amersv Ambulance Service, Biloxi Regional Medical Center, The Coast Counties Medical Society, Garden Park Community Hospital, Gulf Coast Community Hospital, Hancock General Hospital, Memorial Hospital at Gulfport, Mobile Medical Ambulance Service, Ocean Springs Hospital, Naval Construction Battalion Center, The Navy Medical Clinic, CBC Gulfport, Singing River Hospital, U.S. Air Force Medical Center, Keesler AFB, and Veterans Administration Medical Center.

"We wish to thank everyone who helped bring this vast array of health resources together for the WLOX-TV Health Fair," Hash said. "Only with their assistance could we have achieved our purpose of staging a health fair to provide valuable free screenings and health awareness that could conceivably save the lives of hundreds of people who may be unaware that any health problem exists," he said. "If we contribute to the health and well-being of even one person, we will consider the WLOX-TV 13 Health Fair a major success."

Supervisors hear road project complaints

BY DENA BISNETTE

A Fire Tower Road property owner has complained to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors that a paving project on the road is taking too long.

Col. Herbert deBuys addressed the board Monday, complaining that the county started on the project in 1981 and has still not completed it. Among the delays he cited was one of ten days used to obtain utility easements, during which deBuys said the contractor pulled his equipment from the work site.

He also alleged that the road can not be used sometimes because it has not been paved.

"It seems to me that nobody is keeping score or riding herd on this thing. That road was impassible for the last several weeks, but we just got it graded Saturday," deBuys said.

"Are we going to have an all-weather road or are we going to have one that's just for dry spells? This thing is just a perpetual headache for the people who live out there."

Larry Seal, the engineer who handles all of the county's State Aid Road Program-funded projects including the one on Fire Tower Road, said the supervisors are aware of the road's current status.

He did not answer deBuys' allegations at the meeting, saying instead there was no need to repeat information the supervisors already knew.

He reported later that deBuys' allegations that the road was impassible are not correct.

"I was out there with the contractor the previous Friday and he had two graders operating. The traffic was going up and down the road as usual," Seal said.

He said the contractor, Douglas Necaise, had reported some problems with clay gravel topping washing off the road but added that these were typical of a winter project.

The topping will be replaced and any ditches clogged will be cleaned out.

About a third of the topping has been placed on the road, leaving the total project about 30 percent complete at present.

"We're hopefully through the rainy season. I think we'll be able to pursue this thing with 100 percent efficiency now," the engineer added.

Paving can not begin until all the clay gravel topping has been placed on the road.

The first phase of the three-phase project, which Seal said is possibly what deBuys referred to when he complained of a delay in getting easements, consisted of bridge construction. The second phase involved grading and drainage.

Seal said funds for the paving did not become available until spring 1984 and said the contract for the present phase was let in August or September of that year.

In other business, the board entered into its minutes a certificate of public convenience and necessity for Borg Warner, which has received tentative board approval for the issuance of $75 million in industrial revenue bonds for further development.

In another matter regarding Borg Warner, Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner asked if something can be done to encourage the firm to hire local contractors.

Ladner said most of the contractors being hired on a current Borg Warner expansion are from out of state.

Board attorney Walter Gex III has been authorized to set up a meeting about the matter with Borg Warner officials.

In other business, the supervisors approved advertisement for bids for office supplies and furniture for the county tax assessor's new office, appointed Barbara Pursley to the Hancock County Library Commission, gave a used pickup truck no longer needed at the county landfill to the county park commission and took bids on fire fighting equipment.

The supervisors also heard a report from Public Defender William Frisbie on the need for more funding for his office.

In addition, James Head of Gulf Regional Planning Commission addressed the board concerning a land-based data system presently being used by Harrison County. Head will meet with board representatives next week to show them how the system works.

Schools to be open on Good Friday

BY DENA BISNETTE

Students in both the Hancock County and Bay St. Louis schools will give up part of their Good Friday holiday to compensate for time lost during the recent teachers' strike.

Students will attend school on a 60 percent schedule Friday in both districts.

The holiday will not affect county offices, with the courthouse remaining open, but will affect city hall and garbage collection schedules.

In Bay St. Louis, city hall will close Friday but will be open Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Garbage will be picked up according to regular schedule.

In Waveland, city hall will close Friday. Thursday's garbage collection was moved to Wednesday and Friday collections are on Thursday. There will be no collection Friday.

Local banks and post offices are not observing the holiday and will remain open, but all branches of the Hancock County Library System will close.

Special services have been scheduled at several area churches in observance of Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter.

Truck wreck injures two

An 18-wheel dump truck collided with two cement mixers on Hwy. 43 Monday, injuring two men.

According to a spokesman for the Mississippi Highway Patrol in Gulfport, the accident occurred near the Hancock-Pearl River County line at about 10 a.m. when a concrete mixer truck backed out into Hwy. 43 in front of the oncoming dump truck.

The spokesman said the dump truck driver swerved to the left to avoid the cement mixer but hit it in the rear, and then veered off the road, hitting a second mixer parked on the highway shoulder before overturning.

The dump truck driver was identified as Jesse Lampley, address not available. Lampley was injured and was admitted to Crosby Memorial Hospital in Piquette.

Larry Sonnes Jr. of Poplarville, the cement truck driver, was also injured and was treated and released from Crosby Memorial.

The second cement truck was not occupied when the accident occurred.

The cause of the accident was reportedly failure by the cement mixer driver to yield. Charges are pending, the spokesman said.

Seymour seeks third council term

WILMER SEYMOUR

Bay St. Louis Councilman Wilmer Seymour announced his bid for reelection for a third term as councilman-at-large.

"I am again soliciting your vote for councilman-at-large. I have held this position for the past eight years and feel I have the experience, qualifications and dedication to continue to serve the needs of the community," he said.

"I will appreciate any help that you might give," he added.

Seymour is currently employed as athletic director at Bay Senior High School.

He has a bachelor and a specialist degree in health and physical education and a master's degree in administration, all from the University of Southern Mississippi.

A resident of Bay St. Louis since 1955, Seymour is a native of Biloxi.

He is a member of the Rotary Club and the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club.

Seymour was a member of the Mississippi National Guard for 19 years and served in the army for two years.

He and his wife, Mary Frances, have three children.

Stennis addition to bill may help Texas Flat Road

Sen. John Stennis has added language involving Texas Flat Road to a 1986 defense authorization bill being considered by Armed Service Committee, Stennis aide Steve Grafton reported Wednesday.

In Stennis' addition to the bill, the road is specifically named and identified as an access road to the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant in Hancock County. The new language directs that the road be included in the Fiscal Year 1987 defense spending program.

The design for the road, which must be 35 percent complete before the road can be considered for the program, will be done during the 1986 fiscal year, Grafton said.

Funding for actual construction will be requested for fiscal year 1987 if the bill passes.

Further committee action on the bill is expected Thursday.

Bay St. Louis councilmen open trucks, copier bids

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Bay St. Louis Councilmen opened bids for two utility department trucks and a copying machine for the police department at a regular meeting Tuesday.

Bids were received from three local dealerships on one 3/4 ton complete truck and one 3/4 ton cab and chassis.

The bidders and bid prices included Schuffert Pontiac, Buick, GMC, Inc., $7,833.83 and $7,957.52; Frank Hille Chevrolet, Oldsmobile, Inc., $9,374.22 and $7,957.52; and Charlie Henderson Ford, Inc., six-cylinder, $8,534 and $8,386; four cylinder, $7,286 and $6,944.

The bids received were taken under advisement for examination and recommendation by Norbert Redmond, city superintendent of utilities.

Bids on a copying machine for the Bay police department were also opened and taken under advisement.

Copier Company, Inc. of Gulfport bid $2,995, with annual maintenance cost, $720 per year on a Mita DC23RE with stand.

The lowest maintenance cost was from CopyTech, Inc. of Gulfport on a Canon NP270, with stand. The cost of the copier is $3,538, with a $650 per year maintenance price.

Copies, Inc. of Pascagoula submitted a bid of $2,645 for a Royal 1602MR, with stand and an $840 per year maintenance contract.

All three copiers have the capability to copy a minimum of 5,000 copies per month and can also enlarge and reduce a copy.

City Clerk Edward Favre said different features and costs of maintenance of the copiers could mean that the lowest unit price is not always the best price.

The bids were taken under advisement.

New members introduced by Waveland Seniors Club

Waveland Senior Citizens Club met at 10 a.m. March 11.

Club chaplain George Wilhem opened the meeting with a prayer.

Sixteen new members were introduced and monthly door prize was won by Mrs. Eva Shea. The prize is donated each month by Security Savings.

Princess Fahey from Edmond Fahey Funeral Home presented gifts to March birthday members.

Meeting was closed with a prayer and retiring of the American flag.

Teachers approved for next year

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

All teachers currently employed in the Bay St. Louis Municipal School District have been approved for the 1985-86 school year and contracts will be issued beginning next week.

The school board approved the list of teachers and staff members recommended by Superintendent J. D. McCullough at a special meeting Tuesday night.

McCullough told the board the only change is that the teachers are recommended for the district, not for a particular school.

He said 95 percent of the teachers would remain at the school where they are currently teaching but some may have to be moved in order to better serve the district.

The list of teachers approved include Betty Ashe, Deborah Cox, Rodney Fisher, Gloria Dean, Betty A. Jones, Sue Sonier, Woody Alliston, Jon Blanchette, Willie Bradley, Freda Cameron, Cathy Carter, Gibson Carter, Patricia Clayborn.

And, Frances Crawley, Katherine Edwards, William Ellis, Gary Griffin, Renee Hamm, Raymond Hanser, Kenneth Harder, Mary Frances Hillman, Roxzana Liebig, Judy Moore, Barney Necaise, John Necaise, Barbara Powell, Janet Roche, Kanta Sabharwal.

Also, Carrie Smith, Sandra Smith, Lynn Stechmann, Joan Thomas, Evelyn Timidalski, Peggy Webb, Cleveland Williams, Bonnie Allison, Marilyn Bailey, Judy Barrett, Tommy Barrett, Gary Blaize, Michael Bowser, Beth Bryan, Doris Diamond.

And, Patricia Duncan, Peggy Dutton, Susan Elchos, Sandra Gray, Nancy Johnson, Mary K. Jones, Wanda K. King, G.L. McRaney, Michael Monroe, Rebecca Montgomery, Debbie Moran, Kathy Ott, Lyn Parrish, Mary Ann Pate.

And, Ellie Perniclaro, Carolyn Porter, Billy Power, Howard Shepard, Fred Weems, Thaddeus Williams, Ralph Wilson, Faye Alliston, Kathy Chapman, Sandra Compretta, Bonnie Cuevas, Jo Ann Cuevas, Mary K. Deen, Paula Dixon, Janet Freeman.

And, Anita Jacobs, Elizabeth Jacobs, Lula James, Thelma Jarrett, Elaine LaFontaine, Janelle Griffin, Rose Lewis, Barbara Mayfield, Marietta Murray, Ollie Oliver, Belinda Pearce, Beth Randle, Linda Reeves, Linda Turner.

And, Linda Washington, Nell Woodall, Dennis Barcelona, Allene Brandon, Teresa Browning, Darlene Forte, Vivian Holyfield, Audrey Maline, Jeanette Smith, Portia Stewart, Juanita Terrell, Juanita Mitchell, Karen Johnson, Linda Matheny, and Joan Tomlinson.

He also presented the board a copy of the 1985 teachers' pay scale which reflects the recent raise approved by the legislature.

The salary scale separately lists salaries for teachers with bachelor (A), master (AA), specialist (AAA) and doctorate (AAAA) degrees.

Percent increases in salaries range from 16.1 for the first-year A teacher to 10.1 for the 17-year AAAA.

The average increase is 13 percent. According to the scale, a first-year teacher with a bachelor's degree will receive $14,875 and the 17-year teacher with a doctorate degree will receive $23,575. Both salaries include a local supplement of $1,000.

McCullough also told board members that administrators salaries were based on the teachers' pay scale and if teachers' pay increased, so did the administrators.

He recommended to the board administration salary increase which ranged from 12 to 10.7 percent.

The administrators and 1985 salary recommendations include Waveland Elementary Principal James Baldree, $28,373; Bay Junior High School Assistant Principal Billy Rhodes, $28,373; North Bay Elementary Principal Rogers James, $30,798; Bay Junior High Principal W.J. Cameton, $31,062; Bay Senior High School Principal Frank Ladner, $35,074; and Assistant Superintendent Robert Magee, $37,570.

The board approved all administration salary increase recommendations and voted following a brief executive session to increase McCullough's salary to $41,000 for 1985.

Salary increases for non-certified personnel including janitors and lunchroom workers were also discussed.

McCullough said he and Business Manager Garland Cuevas were already in the process of determining how much of a raise could be given to these non-certified employees.

"Whatever money we can find available will be used to give these people a raise," McCullough said.

Board member Cyril Glover told McCullough to work as quickly as possible so the non-certified employees raise would be effective at the same time as other raises.

"I just want to make sure that they all have a raise," Glover said.

"These non-certified people work real hard and deserve a raise," Board Member Betty Diboll said.

Staff members approved for employment in the 1985-86 year include, Garland Cuevas, Dominica Favre, Carolyn Adam, Patricia Pitalo, Sallie Saucier, Vivian Rosetti, Jewel McCaleb, Jo Ellen Necaise, Josie Jacobs, Shirley Magee, Shirley Hodgins and Lucille McCullough.

The board also approved janitorial and maintenance personnel including Willard Gavagne, Albert Parker, Roger Price, George Figueira, Ethel Johnson, Clarence Price, Larry Pavolini, Barbara Carver, Charles Brown, Muriel Scott, Troy Lindsey, Bernard Brink and Clyde Rogers.

In other business the board voted for a short school day schedule Friday, April 5.

THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1985-1B

St. John teams stoned by Rock Varsity, JV

The St. Stanislaus baseball team continued its winning ways by defeating St. John in both varsity and junior varsity games this past Monday at Milner Park in Gulfport.

In the varsity contest, SSC exploded for eight runs in the first two innings to soundly defeat St. John 12-5. And in the preliminary junior varsity contest, SSC used the strong pitching of Lloyd Nicaud to beat St. John by a score of 7-3.

The varsity Rockchaws came ready to play Monday, as the scored six runs in the top of the first inning. Jay Artigues led off with a single, followed by Mark Logan's double. Mike Weems walked to load the bases. David Pitalo hit a triple to deep centerfield to score three runs. Phil Wittmann came up and singled, scoring Pitalo from third.

When Donald Pitalo walked, Matt Rosetti laid down a perfect bunt to load the bases. The first seven SSC batters had all got on base with no one out. YaSin Shabazz stepped up and hit a hard line shot that St. John second baseman Pat Yentzen made a nice catch and threw to first to double up Rosetti. With two outs and runners on second and third, Jake Welsh hit a double to left centerfield to score both Don Pitalo and Phil Wittmann, making the score 6-0. Welsh was later tagged out attempting to steal third base.

In the bottom of the first, St. John could not mount any attack as SSC pitcher Mark Logan held the Eagles hitless and scoreless for the first three innings. Logan's pitching record this year is 5-0.

SSC picked up two more runs in the top of the second inning as Jay Artigues led off with a bunt single. Mark Logan then hit a single after Artigues stole second, which advanced him to third base.

With runners on first and third, Logan stole second, and Mike Weems sacrifice scored Artigues from third base. David Pitalo's single scored pinch runner Clinton Edwards to make the score 8-0. Phil Wittmann then grounded to the shortstop for the first out. Don Pitalo's grounder was handled by the first baseman Scott Mallette, and Matt Rosetti struck out to end the inning.

St. John was retired in order in the second inning as Joe Bishop flew out to Donald Pitalo in left field, Scott Mallette grounded out to third baseman Jake Welsh, and Jay Bautista struck out.

YaSin Shabazz led off the top of the third with a deep fly to centerfield for the first out, and Jake Welsh grounded out to the second baseman for the second out. With two outs, Jay Artigues stroked his third single of the game and stole second. Mark Logan's fly out to rightfielder Mike Funk ended the innings for St. Stanislaus with the Rocks on top by an 8-0 margin.

In the bottom of the third, Logan again retired the Eagles in order as Mike Funk flew out to Don Pitalo in left, Charlie Hawkins struck out, and Norris Hopkins hit a weak grounder back to Logan who threw to Phil Wittmann at first base.

Mike Weems led off the top of the fourth with a fly out to the rightfielder and David Pitalo stroked a single for his third hit of the game. Philip Wittmann's deep fly was caught by centerfielder Joe Bishop. With David Pitalo at second after stealing a base, Donald Pitalo grounded out to the third baseman to end the Rock's scoring threat in the fourth.

St. John came alive in the bottom of the fourth with four runs on four hits. Pat Yentzen flew out to YaSin Shabazz in centerfield for the first out, then Kevin Overlaur and pitcher Louis O'Bannon followed with back to back singles to end Logan's no-hitter. Joe Bishop popped up to David Pitalo at shortstop for the second out.

Scott Mallette then singled, scoring both Overlaur and O'Bannon. Jay Bautista then walked, followed by Mike Funk's walk. Charlie Hawkins then singled with the bases loaded, scoring Mallette and Bautista, and suddenly St. John was back in the game, trailing SSC 6-4. Logan then got Pat Yentzen to fly out to Jay Artigues in rightfield to end the threat.

SSC was retired in order in the top of the fifth as Matt Rosetti struck out. YaSin Shabazz grounded out to the pitcher, and Jake Welsh flew out to centerfield. Overlaur struck out, but Louis O'Bannon hit his second single of the game. Logan then struck out Joe Bishop. O'Bannon then stole second. Scott Mallette's double to leftfield scored O'Bannon, and Bautista flew out to Shabazz in center to end the fifth inning, with the Rocks leading 8-5.

In the top of the sixth inning, SSC rallied for three runs. Jay Artigues walked and stole second. Mark Logan's sacrifice bunt advanced Artigues to the third base with one out. Mike Weems' single scored Artigues. An error by St. John second baseman allowed Donald Pitalo to safely reach first. Phil Wittmann's second single of the game drove in courtesy runner Clinton Edwards. Matt Rosetti then popped up to the pitcher O'Bannon to end the scoring as the Rocks regained a comfortable 11-5 lead.

Mike Funk led off the bottom of the sixth with a walk. Charlie Hawkins flew out to Don Pitalo in left for the first out, Norris Hopkins flew out to Shabazz for the second out, and Pat Yentzen flew out to Shabazz for the third out.

St. Stanislaus picked up another run in the top of the seventh when Shabazz flew out to the first baseman, and Jake Welsh singled. Jay Artigues then singled for his fourth hit of the game, and Mark Logan followed with a single for this third hit of the game, scoring Welsh. Mike Weems was out attempting to bunt as his foot touched home plate. With two outs and runners on second and third base, David Pitalo struck out.

David Pitalo came in to pitch the last inning in relief of Mark Logan. Leadoff hitter Kevin Overlaur singled to centerfield, and Louis O'Bannon hit into a fielder's choice, forcing Overlaur at second. Pitalo then struck out Joe Bishop, and the game ended when Scott Mallette grounded out to Jake Welsh.

St. Stanislaus is now 7-3, and plays Pope John Paul Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. at the Rockchaw diamond. Thursday the varsity and junior varsity travel to Biloxi to play Mercy Cross with games scheduled at 4 and 6 p.m.

In the junior varsity contest, SSC defeated St. John by a score of 7-3. Leading hitters were Donald Pitalo, who had two hits, scored two runs, and had two RBI's. Catcher William Scarborough had a double and drove in two runs. YaSin Shabazz and Vince Elchos also had singles. Elchos scored twice, and Shabazz once. The winning pitcher was Lloyd Nicaud, with the last inning of relief pitching by Jay Artigues.

Next junior varsity game will be Thursday at 4 p.m. when the Rocks play Mercy Cross at Mercy Cross.

Marvelous Marvin's 11th title defense to be screened live at Coast Coliseum

Marvelous Marvin Hagler defends his world middleweight title against WBC super welterweight champion Thomas "Hit Man" Hearns at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas Monday night, April 15.

The bout, promoted by Top Rank, Inc. in association with Caesar's Palace, is scheduled for 12 rounds.

Hearns' 154-pound title will not be on the line. More than 15,000 spectators are expected to jam the outdoor stadium on the grounds at Caesar's Palace for the duel of champions.

The live gate has been sold out for weeks, with total gross sales of $6 million.

The fight will be sent on a scrambled message to closed circuit outlets in the United States, Canada and Mexico. There will be no home TV, no radio, nor will the fight be seen on home satellite discs.

Each fighter has been guaranteed $5.1 million and a percentage of the gate.

The 30-year-old Hagler is the dominant fighter in boxing today. He has compiled a 60-2-2 record with 50 knockouts and will enter the fight unbeaten in nine years, covering 36 fights.

In his last title defense in October, Hagler knocked out number-one ranked Mustafa Hamsho in three rounds. It was Hagler's 10th defense of his crown and his ninth by knockout. Only Roberto Duran has gone the full 15-round distance against Hagler in a title defense bout.

Hagler battled to a 15-round draw with then-champion Vito Antuoferno in November, 1979, the only fight he has not won in the past nine years. In his second shot at the belt in September, 1980, Hagler sliced up defending champion Alan Minter and won the title with a technical knockout.

In his 10 title defenses, he has beaten Hamsho and Fulgencio Obelmejias twice; Antuoferno, Caveman Lee; Tony Sibson, Wilfred Scypion, Duran and Juan Domingo Roldan.

Marvelous Marvin was named "Fighter-Of-The-Year" in 1983 by the Boxing Writers of America.

In taking on the 26-year-old Hearns, Hagler will be facing one of the hardest hitters in boxing. The "Hit Man" from Detroit is 40-1 with 34 knockouts and is looking to become the eighth fighter in boxing history to win titles in three different weight classes. The others are Bob Fitzsimmons, Tony Canzoneri, Barney Ross, Henry Armstrong, Wilfred Benitez, Alexis Arguello and Duran.

Boxing fans along the Gulf Coast may view the Hearns-Hagler world middleweight championship fight, live, on closed circuit television at the Coast Coliseum on Apr. 15 at 8 p.m.

There will be other bouts on the card, to include some three hours of boxing.

Reserved seats are $25, general admission is $20.

Tickets are available at Lolacano's Health Center in Bay St. Louis.

Arcement's 38 RBIs pace Wildcat 11-game streak

Pearl River College continued its torrid pace last week by demolishing Co-Lin 11-1 and 9-1; East Central 10-0 and 14-0; and Meridian 18-3 and 13-10.

The clean sweep of the Warriors on Saturday and the Eagles on Sunday gave the Wildcats 11 consecutive wins and confirmed their second place standing in the South Division.

Overall PRC is 24-13, however in the South the 'Cats are 11-2 and only two games behind Utica. The Wildcats' chance to overtake the Utica Bulldogs was rained out last Wednesday. That game will be made up next week.

The Wildcats were scheduled to play Gulf Coast Tuesday at Perkinston. The Wildcats' two losses in the South were at the hands of rival Perk.

"I think we are starting to do everything well," said Ned Eades, the Wildcats' head coach. "We are loose and are playing really well."

Jim Spugnardi, Simpsonville, Ky., fired a no-hit shutout against East Central on Saturday, while teammate Mike McElroy of Picayune tossed a one-hit shutout.

"Spugnardi threw the ball pretty much where he wanted to, working on the corners, keeping the batters off balance," Eades said. Spugnardi went the distance for the 'Cats earning his fifth win against three losses, giving him a career record 14-4, tops on the all-time Wildcat list.

Scotty Stanley of Hattiesburg has a 5-1 mark, while teammates McElroy is 4-2 and Randy Sandifer of Baton Rouge is undefeated at 4-0. Stanley also has two saves. Harvey Simmons of Purvis is 2-2, Brian Locicero of Hammond is 2-2-1 and Bobby Doss of Frankfort, Ky. is 1-2-1.

The Wildcats are hitting at a .321 clip with five players above the .300 mark.

Jason Wesley of Hattiesburg is leading the 'Cats at the plate with a .411 pace. Wesley has hit seven homeruns, while getting 30 hits in 73 trips to the plate. Wesley has played in 25 ballgames and knocked in 28 runs.

Hancock North Central's Brian Arcement is hitting .395 and also has seven homeruns. Arcement has played in 32 games and knocked in a team leading 38 runs. He has also stolen eight bases.

Mike Summers, who has played in 37 ballgames, is hitting .385, including three homeruns, 15 doubles and 25 RBIs. Kyle Wiley of Shelbyville, Ky., is batting .354 and has played in 36 ballgames. He has 10 doubles and two homeruns.

Everette Reagan of Monroe, La., is hitting .311, including four homeruns. Martin Dominique of Hammond is hitting .302.

As a team the Wildcats have hit 66 doubles, three triples and 40 homeruns. The 'Cats fielding percentage is .939.

Thursday the Wildcats will entertain Hinds in Poplarville. Friday and Saturday the 'Cats will play East Mississippi at Scooba.

Wildlife hearings set

The first two weeks of April will be a busy time for many Department of Wildlife Conservation personnel. That's the time agency members will be traveling across the state listening to hunters and fishermen comment about the upcoming fall and winter hunting seasons, dates, and bag limits.

The 1985 slate of hearings was agreed upon in Jackson Tuesday, Mar. 19 at a meeting of the five-member Commission on Wildlife Conservation.

All public hearings will begin at 7 p.m.

"This is an important time for state hunters and fishermen to come out and comment on the upcoming seasons," bureau of fisheries and wildlife director Lewis Bays said.

"We will have agency biologists and law enforcement personnel at each public hearing to answer their questions. But most importantly, it's a time for the hunters and fishermen to speak out."

Bays noted that each hearing will be tape recorded for use by the Department and the Commission on Wildlife Conservation in setting seasons, dates, and bag limits.

Bays said that public hearings this year have been set for the following locations:

—Philadelphia, Apr. 4, Courthouse;
—Picayune, Apr. 10, Friendship Park; and —Natchez, Apr. 11, Courthouse.

Biloxi Heritage fest to include 5K run, boat building contest

The first annual Biloxi Heritage 5K Run will be staged Saturday, Apr. 13 at 8:30 a.m. at Biloxi City Hall.

The run, to be held in conjunction with the 5th annual Biloxi Heritage Festival, is sponsored by the City of Biloxi, the Greater Biloxi Economic Development Foundation and the Gulf Coast Running Club.

The run begins at Biloxi City Hall and spans through the Vieux Marche' and East Biloxi historical areas.

Registration fee is $7 per runner by the deadline of Apr. 3. Late registration fee is $8 on race day from 7:30-8:15 a.m.

Age divisions, men and women, are 14 and under; 15-19; 20-24; 25-29; 30-34; 35-49; 40-44; 45-49; 50-54; 55-59; 60-65; 65-69; 70 and over.

Visitors will be given to all entrants. Late entrants will receive visitors by mail. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third overall male and female finishers.

Medallions go to the first three finishers in each age group. A drawing will be held for a pair of Converse running shoes. Water, fruit, soft drinks and beer will be served at the finish.

For information or entry form, contact Cindy Donnelly at 375-8600, extension 251 or Wayne Neal at 435-7400.

BILLOXI BOATS

The festival also will feature a small boat building contest, sponsored by the Biloxi Seafood Industry Museum Board and the Biloxi Catboat Project/Apprenticeship Program.

The contest will be held at the Biloxi Port Commission parking lot located at the Biloxi Small Craft Harbor on Main Street and Highway 90.

There will be a $25 entry fee per team, which entitles each team to two Biloxi Boat posters and the following materials with which to construct their boat:

- one sheet of 4'x8'x1/4" plywood;
- six 1"x2"x8' sheets; and
- one 4'x1"x12" plank.

Each team (teams are limited to three members) supplies:

- power tools—limited to one jig saw;
- one electric drill; and
- all the handtools and glue/fasteners needed by their team.

Each team's entry will be judged on the following criteria:

- Originality —creativity/innovation.
- Durability —must float one team member (sea trails will be held in the Glennan Park Fountain).
- Relationship to Heritage (Biloxi Boats) —piroques, skiffs, prams/punts are encouraged.

Winning boats will be displayed at the Biloxi Seafood Industry Museum.

Registration to participate will be held through Wednesday, Apr. 10 at the Biloxi Waterfront Office located on the first floor of the Biloxi Port Commission Building. Information should include team member's names, captain's address and phone number.

Entry fee checks should be made payable to the Biloxi Seafood Industry Museum Board.

For information contact contest coordinators Dr. Val Husley at 374-8600, extension 320 or Bob Landry at 435-7228.

Louisiana, Mississippi seek non-resident hunting accord

Rep. Emmett Owens, chairman of the Mississippi House Game and Fish Committee, says he is optimistic about resolving differences between Mississippi and Louisiana over non-resident hunting practices.

Members of the Game and Fish Committee met recently in Jackson with several members of the Louisiana House Committee on Natural Conservation.

Owens called it a "very good" meeting and Rep. Clyde Kimball of New Roads, La., chairman of the Louisiana committee, said it was "a fruitful experience."

Owens said he had proposed the meeting in an effort to settle potential conflicts between sportsmen from the two states over non-resident hunting practices.

Many Louisiana hunters like to come to Mississippi to hunt and this has caused some friction between local hunters and the Louisiana hunters, he said.

The veteran Hinds County legislator said some Mississippians also cross state lines and hunt in Louisiana.

Owens said legislators from the neighboring states "found we were pretty close together in our thinking."

"We are going to meet with them again at a later date and try to come up with a solution that is satisfactory to everybody," he said. "I can't tell you at this point what that solution might be, but we are not too far apart."

The talks included such matters as the number of deer and doe that non-resident hunters can kill and take back to their home state, and the age requirements for having a hunting and fishing license.

In addition to non-resident hunting, Rep. Alan Santa Cruz of Biloxi said lawmakers from the two states had an opportunity to briefly discuss matters involving the Gulf Coast seafood industry. Santa Cruz is chairman of the Seafood Subcommittee of the Mississippi House Conservation and Water Resources Committee.

The Harrison County legislator said another meeting is tentatively planned this summer between Mississippi and Louisiana lawmakers to more fully explore various issues dealing with the seafood industry.

TIGHT NERVES

This materialistic age is often blamed for all our frustrated ambitions and nervous tension. When the person becomes tense and overworked with anxiety, he is urged to take tranquilizers or rest from work. But it is a hard and poor remedy to follow when you are tied up inside. Authorities in our field have found that nervousness creeps up on a person from the inside, and they usually blame outside conditions for causing them to be tense and even depressed. Studies indicate that there is a physical reason for nervousness, that it can and often does result from an interrupted nerve supply. This interrupts the nervous system and slows down the life currents of the body. A Chiropractic examination can detect an interruption in the nerve supply and proper care will aid in restoring normal nerve function, your peace of mind, and vigorous health again.

Stanislaus faculty bests seniors in benefit basketball event

In the annual St. Stanislaus High School Senior-Faculty Basketball Game played at Brother Peter Memorial gym on the school's Bay St. Louis campus, faculty edged the seniors 47-44.

As the crowd exited the gym, some spectators were asked to give what for them was the highlight of the game. Some opinions were fictional, such as: "Mr. Moran's stealing the ball, sprinting down the court, jumping from the foul line and scoring a reverse slam-dunk, after doing a 360° spin with a tripple pump."

Others were more factual: "Mike Seuzeneau's outside shooting."

"Mr. Weaver's awesome inside moves," "The seniors' pulling ahead 43-42, with a little more than a minute."

A large, enthusiastic crowd attended the event staged to benefit the school's Lenten Giving Fund.

Leading scorers for the seniors were Mark Wheeler, 12 point; Matt

Scardino, 10; Mike Seuzeneau, 7; Chris Hündemar, 6; John Dinwiddie, 4; Robert Boulet, 3; and Mark Seuzeneau, 2.

Leading faculty scorers were Her-ring, 10; Gemelli, 9; Weaver, 9; Moran, 7; Spell, 5; Bro. Anton, 3; and Bro. Eduardo and Bourgeois, 2 points each.

Arcement, Rhodes, the Halls among Lady Wildcat starters

Pearl River College's Lady Wildcats split with Gulf Coast and Meridian last week to push their overall record to 5-3.

The PRC ladies lost two heartbreakers to Gulf Coast, 9-8 and 2-1 and then used the 10 run rule to blast Meridian 13-3 and 13-1.

Michelle Hartford from Sandy Hook, has been the pitcher in all eight ballgames. The Lady Wildcats were to play Hinds Monday on the Lady 'Cats diamond and Gulf Coast Tuesday at Perkinston.

Leon Akins, the PRC coach, said he was very pleased with the Lady Wildcats' performance. "We're getting better and playing more as a team every game. There is a close, supportive relationship among the players."

Akins said Debra Powell from Sumrall was starting at first.

Betsy Arcement, Hancock North Central is at second; Terri Rhodes of Bay St. Louis at third, Bridgett Hall of Hancock North Central at shortstop, and Myra Hall from Hancock has been starting in left center.

Julie Cantrall from Picayune in right center and Regina Thompson of Purvis in right field. Carmie Smith of Poplarville and Toni Campbell of Lumberton have been alternating in left field.

Pam McGill of Poplarville is the designated hitter and Karen Peterson of Poplarville has been playing catcher and in the outfield. DeeDee Rawls of Sumrall has been playing in right field.

Extension to sponsor sportfishing workshop

All area anglers, both old salts and greenhorns alike, are cordially invited to attend a Marine Sportfishing Workshop on Wednesday, Apr. 17 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the J.L. Scott Marine Education Center in Biloxi.

The event is being sponsored by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service and the Mississippi Sea Grant Advisory Services.

There is no charge for admission, but pre-registration is necessary. Capt. Ralph Hyer of Gorenflo's Tackle Shop will provide an overview/demonstration of what is new in the realm of fishing tackle.

Based on his years of experience, he will point out the features to look for and avoid when purchasing fishing gear.

He will also talk about tackle repair and maintenance, and the fine art of custom rod construction, a skill at which he is very proficient. Larry Simpson, executive director of the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission, will talk about inshore fishing techniques along the Coast with an emphasis on speckled trout, redfish, and flounder.

He will also give some pointers on flounder gigging.

A film from Penn Fishing Tackle Mfg. Co. entitled, "Arthur Smith King Mackerel Tournament" which shows the use of downriggers and other specialized techniques used to boat king mackerel over 40 pounds will be shown.

Dr. Jim Coe, executive director of Mississippi Gulf Fishing Banks, Inc., will talk about Mississippi's artificial reef program and give many useful pointers about fishing these structures along with other offshore angling techniques.

There will be door prize drawings and a program evaluation conducted at the close of the workshop.

For information and reservations, you can write 4646 W. Beach Blvd., Ste. 1-E, Biloxi, Ms 39531, or phone (601)388-4710.

Foundation sponsoring Pensacola Bay Canoe Race

A canoe race in Pensacola Bay will be held Saturday, May 11, as part of Pensacola's Fleets of Five Flags celebration.

Sponsored by the Northwest Florida Arthritis Foundation, the eight-mile canoe race will follow a triangular course across Pensacola Bay and back.

The race will be open to all ages and experience. Prizes will be awarded and free gifts will be given to all entrants.

The "Pensacola Bay Paddle" canoe race will begin at 9 a.m., with check-in time at 7:30 a.m. at the north end of the Pensacola Bay bridge on Bayfront Parkway.

Registration fee is $10 per person with all proceeds going to the Arthritis Foundation. Race rules provide that one person in each canoe must be at least 18 years old, and each entrant must wear a personal flotation device (PFD). Safety boats will be stationed throughout the course.

Deadline for application is May 1. Late applicants will be charged $5 extra. Requests for applications should be sent to the Arthritis Foundation, 1300 North Palafox Street, Pensacola, Fla. 32501.

Stanislaus Physics Team wins top honors in Starkville

St. Stanislaus students placed second overall among the 47 schools participating in a recent High School Physics Competition at Mississippi State University in Starkville.

Jim Thriffley was overall individual champion having achieved the highest score among 455 students who took the test.

Mark Wheeler had the sixth highest score among the same students.

Other students representing St.

Stanislaus were seniors Nicky Gachassin, Mike Seuzeneau, Billy Cox, Chris Kolodziej, Nathan Bills, Chuck Yarborough and Charles Schutt.

Wheeler, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Damon Wheeler of Waveland, received an award plaque indicating his high finish. Thriffley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thriffley III of Bay St. Louis, earned a trophy and a $700 scholarship for winning first place honors.

Enrollment deadline for gifted announced

Parents and guardians of gifted children have until Mar. 31 to enroll their children in the University of Southern Mississippi's summer residential studies program in June. Students entering grades five through nine will live on the USM campus for two weeks and study the connection between science and society—using classrooms, laboratories and libraries at USM.

Applications may be obtained through local school personnel or by contacting Dr. Frances Karnes at (601) 266-5236.

Coast Research Lab to begin new classes

Gulf Coast Research Laboratory will feature two new classes in its marine science mini-course series during April at the J.L. Scott marine Education Center on the GCRL Biloxi campus.

Charles Eleuterius, head of the GCRL oceanography section, will be the instructor for "Tides and Tidal Currents" on four consecutive Tuesday nights beginning on April 2 from 7-9 p.m. The class will emphasize a generally non-mathematical explanation of what causes tides, their variations and the meaning of associated terminology. Participants will learn about tidal currents, how to use tide tables, interpret current rises and make crude predictions about local tides.

"Seabirds and Shorebirds of the Gulf Coast," to be taught by Judith Toups of Gulfport, will focus on resident and migratory coastal birds. A field trip is planned to practice identification techniques learned in lecture. Identification, habitat and ecological importance of Gulf Coast seabirds and shorebirds will be included in the course, which is scheduled for four consecutive Thursday nights beginning April 4 from 7-9 p.m.

These mini-courses are offered for the personal enjoyment of adults and no prior knowledge of the subject matter is required. Interested persons are asked to pre-register at the Marine Education Center, but registrations will be accepted on the first night of class on a space-available basis. A minimum of 15 students is required for each course to be taught.

Fee for each course is $20 and gift certificates are available for persons who would like to give a mini-course as a gift. More information may be obtained from the Marine Education Center at 374-5550.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES—Chuck Benigno of Bay St. Louis discussed job possibilities with a representative of Escambia, Fla. public schools during the recent Education Recruitment Day at the University of Southern Mississippi. Education Recruitment Day is an annual event designed to help future educators meet potential employers and explore career possibilities.

Bay Girl Scout troop presents 25th anniversary celebration

Troops from Bay St. Louis joined over 1,000 Girl Scouts from throughout south Mississippi on Saturday to celebrate the 25th anniversary of Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council and the 73rd birthday of Girls Scouts of the USA.

The celebration was an outdoor music festival held at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. The talents of community groups as well as the Girl Scouts themselves were featured.

Hazel Portwood of Gulfport, president of the Gulf Pines Council, and Kitty Reid of Hattiesburg, executive director, opened the occasion with the assistance of country-gospel singer Ruby Lovett of Laurel.

Opening festivities peaked with the release of hundreds of green balloons, creating a sea of green floating up towards the sun.

Girl Scouts performed throughout the day with song, dances and homemade musical instruments. Troop 27 of Bay St. Louis, Alice Holmes leader, delighted their audience with a play "A Ghost for Rosandia."

The day closed with the scouts traditional sing-a-long. The sweet melody of young voices filled the air as girls linked hands in a circle of friendship. One link of that circle remained open to welcome friends to Girl Scouting.

The Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council is a United Way agency. It was chartered in 1960 with approximately 1,000 members.

In its 25 year history, the Gulf Pines Council has served nearly 200,000 girls in its 15 county jurisdiction.

While the goal of Girl Scouting is to help girls grow up to be happy, strong, contributing citizens, the accent is still on old-fashioned fun!

GUEST SPEAKER—Pearl River College all-A students, from second from left, Laurie Downs of Picayune; Gail Carter of Bay St. Louis; and Lynn Gilbert of Picayune talk with Dr. Aubrey Lucas, president of the University of Southern Mississippi at the annual PRC president's banquet.

Phi Theta Kappa lists new members

Walter Gibson of Picayune will succeed Brian Knippers of Tyler-town as president of the Pearl River College Phi Theta Kappa organization.

The new slate of officers will rule the PRC organization of elite students through the 1985-86 school year.

In the recent election Tony Waits of Sumrall was elected vice-president; Jennifer Hammill of Poplarville, secretary; Karen Mardis of Picayune, treasurer; and Donna Fullilove of Pearl River, La., reporter.

Club historians include Gwen Crawford of Picayune, Wanda Anderson of Lumberton, Rhonda Hickman of Poplarville, and Rhoda Wise of Carriere.

To become a member of the Pearl River Phi Theta Kappa, a student must have an overall 3.4 grade point average on a four-point scale and must have a letter of recommendation from a college or high school teacher. Of course, the student must be in good standing with Pearl River College.

The purposes of Phi Theta Kappa are the promotion of scholarship, the development of leadership and service, and the cultivation of fellowship among students of community junior colleges in the United States.

The PRC Phi Theta Kappa has been very busy this year with many local projects for the community and school.

The following local students have been inducted into the PRC organization this year.

Picayune—Rhonda E. Bryant, Lauri A. Downes, Andrew Lance Failla, Robin Fozzard, Carmen A. Lightell, Erna C. Schaumburg, Stan Purvis, Michelle Lane Webb, Brenda G. Stewart, Angela Hill, Tangela Lee, Shasta Moseley, Kim Palmer, Jeffery Scott Boone, Gwen Crawford, Water Gipson IV, Karen L. Marsis, Stephen Miller, Mary Ann Smith, Chris Vaughn, Calle Wilkins and Sara Cronin.

Bay St. Louis—Theresa Ladner, Donna L. Moran, Mary Raymond, Christine Gleber and Jane Ladner.

Waveland—Gail Carter and Diane Tenney.

Pass Christian—Rhonda Seal and Gidget Necaise.

Carriere—Anita Gay Sumrall, David Dean and Rhonda Wise.

Pearlington—Myra Hall.

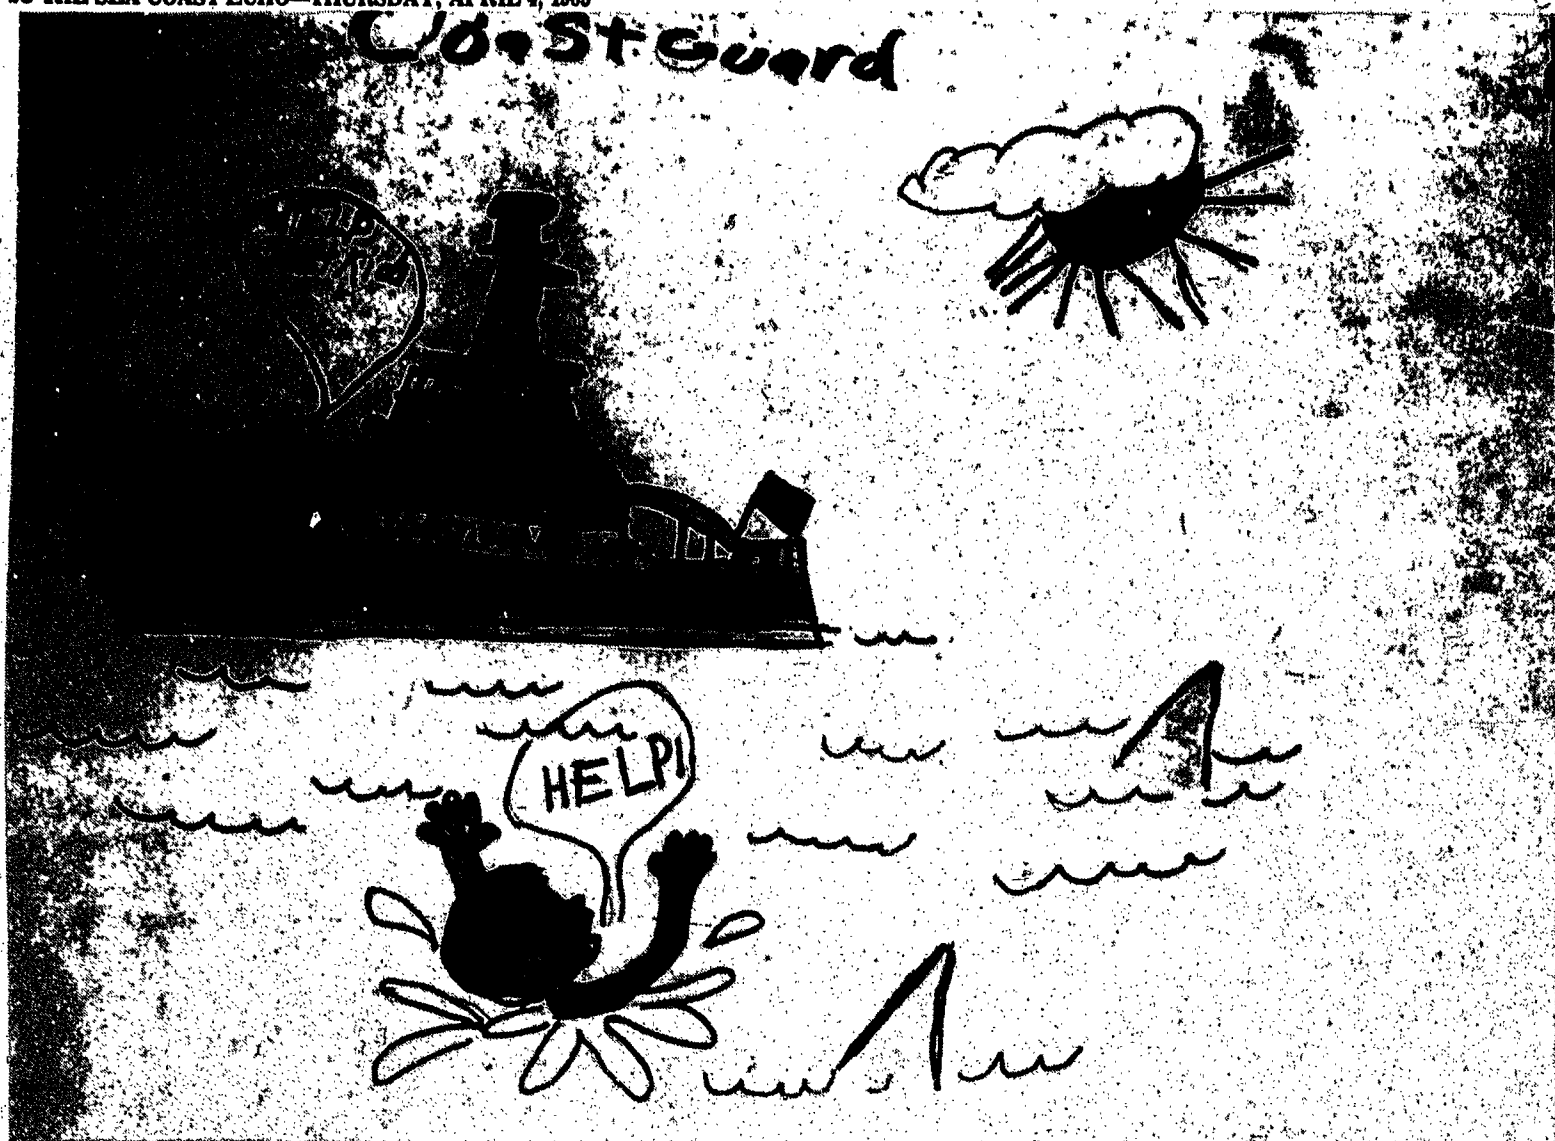

The word "galaxy" is from the Greek word "gala" meaning milk, so-called because of the Milky Way which resembles a trail of milk across the sky.

BUILDING PROJECTS—Coast Episcopal School fourth grade students, from left, Gary Chapman of Slidell; Missy Mitchell of Diamondhead; Megan Uram of Bay St. Louis; and Eric Williams of Ocean Springs show construction projects recently completed for social studies class. Used by permission; all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis, Mo.

QUESTION— Prohibition in the United States had the effect of:

- Increasing consumption and increasing alcohol-related deaths and illnesses
- Increasing consumption and decreasing alcohol-related deaths and illnesses
- Decreasing consumption and decreasing alcohol-related deaths and illnesses
- Decreasing consumption and increasing alcohol-related deaths and illnesses

ANSWER— Prohibition reduced significantly the total amount of alcohol consumed in the United States. Alcohol-related deaths and illnesses are directly related to the total amount of alcohol consumed within a population.

Correct answer - c.
For further information about alcohol and drug abuse write: Dr. Paul G. Jones, II, Executive Director, Christian Action Commission, P.O. Box 530, Jackson, MS 39205.

The 4-H District Livestock Show and Judging Contest was recently held in Hattiesburg. William Moran showed his Simmental heifers and bull. Grandy Ladner also showed a Simmental heifer.

These two young men did an outstanding job in representing Hancock County at the District Contest and went to compete in the State Round-Up in Jackson.

Participating in the judging contest were Swine Judging Team Leonard Koenenn, Melissa Moran, Cassie Smith and Larry Koenenn Jr. They won second place overall and received blue ribbons. Also judging in the Beef Division was Ledell Ladner who also won a blue ribbon for her high score.

Moran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Moran, won Reserved Grand Champion with Judy, his Simmental heifer at District.

Scout walk to benefit Muscular Dystrophy

Members of Boy Scout Troop 217 are accepting pledges for their Walk-a-Thon on Saturday, Apr. 6 to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy drive.

The 10-mile walk will begin at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Main Street in Bay St. Louis, proceed to TG&Y on US-90 in Waveland, then down Waveland Avenue to Beach Boulevard and back to Main Street.

Refreshments will be provided by Domino's Pizza at the end of the walk.

Troop sponsors are Our Lady of the Gulf Parish and Pere le Duc Council No. 1522, Knights of Columbus.

GCRL research vital to sea bottom claims

A recent U.S. Supreme Court decision which upheld claims by the states of Mississippi and Alabama to over 70,000 acres of seabottom and associated natural resources in the Mississippi Sound is "probably the most important legal decision ever handed down dealing with Mississippi waters," according to Dr. Harold D. Howse, director of Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs.

"We congratulate the state Attorney General and his staff for successfully pursuing this litigation," Dr. Howse said.

He noted members of the GCRL staff provided considerable technical and scientific information and support to assist in resolution of this jurisdictional dispute with the federal government.

Dr. Ervin Otvos, head of the GCRL geology section, had testified as an expert witness before a Special Master appointed by the U.S. Supreme Court to examine ownership claims to areas called "enclaves" including 64,000 acres adjacent to the Mississippi coast and 6,500 to 8,000 acres off the Alabama shore north of the coastal barrier island chain.

Results of coastal geological research conducted by Otvos and his associates for 12 years as GCRL produced a significant part of the evidence that was presented to Special Master Walter P. Armstrong Jr. in June 1982.

The Supreme Court's decision upheld the report issued by Armstrong in April 1984 after consideration of testimony presented at these hearings.

"I felt that our barrier islands should be considered a natural extension of the mainland and as such, Mississippi and Alabama had valid claims to the seabottoms in question with evidence based on geological history and processes, historical development and physiography of the area," Otvos contends.

"The potential is good for discovery of oil and gas fields in deep geological formations in this area, judging from the recent discovery of a major gas field and promising shows in the Mobile Bay-Dauphin Island vicinity," Otvos pointed out.

He cited a November 1984 article in Ocean Industry by Chuck McCabe which outlined the boom in offshore operations in the Gulf of Mexico.

The article noted that the Gulf region leads the surge in U.S. oil exploration for several reasons.

East and West Coast prospects for large finds have faded in recent years, while oil and gas discoveries in the deep-water Gulf tracts in the late 1970's have sparked increased investigation.

In addition, area-wide lease sales held in the past few years have made unprecedented acreage available for drilling prospects. These factors, coupled with an expanding economy, could sustain a high level of activity for the future.

Mississippi has made only 242,685 acres available in lease offerings in the southern half of the Mississippi Sound since 1982. Because of the enclaves ownership dispute, the state left over 195,000 northern acres out of the bid offerings.

At the same time, the federal government has withheld 21 lease tracts it had claimed from prospective bidders ever since Mississippi filed suit in 1979 seeking the territory.

Simpson named star student

Stephanie Simpson, senior at Our Lady Academy, was named Star Student of 1985 by the Mississippi Economic Council's Student Teacher Achievement Recognition Program.

Simpson's selection was based on her high scholastic average and her score on the American College Test.

Simpson is president of the OLA Student Council, treasurer of the National Honor Society and vice president of Mu Alpha Theta. She is also a member of Spanish Honor Society, Project Do and Science and Mathematics Tournament Team. Simpson has been on the Alpha Honor Roll throughout her high school years.

Simpson earned the English Award in the Capstone Summer Honors Program at University of Alabama.

She plans to attend Loyola University in New Orleans and study English and political science.

Simpson has chosen Mrs. Mary Alice Benvenuti as Star Teacher.

Mrs. Benvenuti, teaches English and psychology at OLA.

She earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Mississippi and her master's degree from William Carey College.

Mrs. Benvenuti was previously designated Star Teacher in 1980 and 1984.

Teen Board hears alcohol-drug abuse counselor

"The Effects of Chemical Dependency" was the topic of a workshop presented by Byrne Windham, community and industrial relations staff member of Bowling Green Inn, for The Princess Shop's Teen Board recently.

Bowling Green Inn is an alcoholism and other drug abuse recovery hospital located in Mandeville, La.

The Teen Board is composed of high school age young women in the area who are selected for the board by The Princess Shop of Bay St. Louis for 'poise, scholastic standing, and desire to improve in all areas.'

"One of the ways people are affected by all mood-altering drugs is that they allow the person to behave in ways that would be inappropriate for her without the drugs. If you are acting counter to your own moral values, it causes emotional pain, which is relieved by more drugs, which cause more pain and on and on," Windham said.

Windham told the group of approximately 40 young ladies about the disease concept of chemical dependency.

"It is the only disease known to man that kills the whole person, body, mind, and spirit."

Windham said that the latest research into chemical dependency appears to confirm a genetic component of the disease, but that environment also plays an important part.

"Of course, one of the essential ingredients in becoming chemically dependent is the ingestion of chemicals," she stated.

"Young people feel a lot of pressure from their peers to be a part of the crowd, which invariably means drinking alcohol and/or using other drugs—and make no mistake, alcohol is a sedative drug," Windham said.

"It takes courage to dare to be different, to say, 'I don't drink or use drugs.'"

"If that's your conviction, it isn't always easy, but the end result will be your own self-respect and the respect of your peers."

"There is hope, even if a woman develops the disease," stated Windham.

"Recovery is not only possible, but probable if she or her family will reach out for the help that is available," the certified alcoholism counselor added.

Husband and wife author guide to technical writing

A husband and wife team from Hattiesburg have produced a new guide to technical writing that one reviewer said would "establish a new mark of excellence" in the field.

"Models for Technical Writing" by Philip C. and Janeen L. Kolin was three years in the making. He is a professor of English at the University of Southern Mississippi, and she is a registered nurse in the Progress Cardiac Care Unit of Forrest General Hospital, and an instructor in the Advanced Cardiac Life Support Program.

Writing highly acclaimed texts in this field is nothing new for this duo, who in 1981 received a Book of the Year Award from the "American Journal of Nursing" for their "Professional Writing for Nurses in Education, Practice and Research."

The latest book uniquely emphasizes the importance of audience analysis in the writing of the 65 different types of documents used as examples of technical writing. "No other book that we have seen consistently shows how to assess an audience," said Dr. Kolin.

The text is designed to introduce students to a variety of technical documents they will be required to write on the job. The documents such as letters, memoranda, instructions, proposals, feasibility studies, progress reports, and news releases come from business, industry and government.

Kolin said some of the examples came from such local firms as Leaf River Forest Products in addition to the Environmental Protection Agency, the "New England Journal of Medicine," the Foxboro Corporation and the United States Brewers Association. Others include the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Bureau of Prisons and the Lockheed Employees Recreation Club.

"Each model given is directed to a different audience type and within each chapter, the models become progressively more technical," he said. The four key audiences identified are consumers, decision-makers, operators and experts.

"All the models we give were chosen to show students how effective technical writers analyze, then write for a particular audience," said Kolin, adding that the audiences for his book include teachers and students in technical writing courses and individuals employed in government, business, and industry who want to write better on the job.

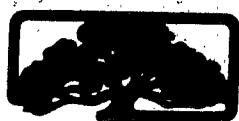

The Key to Financial Independence - A Merchants Bank IRA

While your earnings are at their peak, assure for yourself your own key to financial independence, with an IRA account at Merchants Bank.

IRAs give you a real break, deferral from income taxes on contributions (the amount you save every year) and deferral from income taxes on the interest earned on your account. You begin to pay taxes when you withdraw from the fund at retirement . . . when presumably you are in a lower tax bracket.

How to start? By paying a visit to Merchants Bank, where a friendly, knowledgeable IRA advisor has the answers for you.

WE TREAT YOU LIKE A PERSON. Not a NUMBER!

When you buy insurance from an agent who works directly for one insurance company, he's probably not the person you talk to when you have a claim. Most one-company agents have nothing to do with claims. It's between you and the adjuster.

That's not the case when you deal with an Independent Insurance Agency like us. We're right here ready to serve you when you have a claim...helping you reach a fair settlement as quickly as possible.

THE LAST WEIGHT LOSS PROGRAM YOU'LL EVER NEED

Evolution of Rock 'n Roll continues through Rockabilly

THE YEARS OF CHANGE

By John Falcon

The following paper will discuss several different aspects of "Rock 'n Roll." This paper will lightly explore the following areas: The Beginning, Responses, Satanic Rock, Heavy Metal, and Rockabilly. The term "Rock 'n Roll" has been used for many years to describe physical sex. In time the meaning came to be those songs which were popular with teens.

In the beginning, rock 'n roll, to teens, was a way of rebellion. "Many adults felt a great distaste toward rock 'n roll. In 1955 these adults became more outspoken in their views. They often cited a 1954 report that more than a million young criminals were being arrested each year," said Julian Messner in his book, "It's Rock 'n Roll."

Tests have shown that rock 'n roll music does not inspire young people to become violent.

1963 represented a turning point in the music arena and in the world in general. For one thing the adult world was starting to pay serious attention to the younger generation, more than they had in the past.

With the popularity of the "Twist" came an increased interest in the styles, language and ideas of the young. Rock 'n roll's first generation was now out of high school and was entering either college or the job market.

The teenagers of the 50s were the young adults of the 60s, and their habits and styles were very important to fashion designers, advertisers, politicians, and record company executives.

Next to come is "Satanic Rock." This period evolved during the late 60s with the Beatles.

The "Devils White" album introduces the use of subliminal or backward messages. These are messages of obscene or satanic nature. These messages are hidden in reverse order and can only be detected consciously by laboratorial means.

There are many bills that are trying to stop backward masking. "Also objectional to many child welfare advocates are rock music lyrics that, they say, glorify sex and drug use, permitting kids...to have as role models pop singers who sing about drugs and disaster," said Dr. Densen-Gerber.

Rep. Robert K. Dornan, R-Calif., recently introduced a bill that would require warning labels on record albums that he says contain hidden messages extolling satanic worship. A similar bill was introduced in the California Legislature.

Examples of subliminal messages in songs can be found in "Revolution Number Nine," in which one hears number nine repeated several times.

Played in reverse, the revealed message is, "Turn me on dead man." "Another One Bites the Dust" by Queen, when played backwards reveals, "It's fun to smoke marijuana."

Led Zeppelin's "Stairway to Heaven" when played backwards reveals, "I've got to live for Satan."

According to Brother Ernest, SC, author of "To Hell with Rock," the following groups are particularly notorious in the dangerous influence they exert: AC/DC, Alice Cooper, The Beatles, Black Sabbath, Elvis Presley, Kiss, Led Zeppelin, The Rolling Stones and The Who.

Some other dangerous modern-day groups also include: Motley Crue, Iron Maiden and Van Halen.

Groups whose dangerous influence is of a lesser nature include Beachboys, Bee Gees, Blue Oyster Cult, Blondie, Boston, Jefferson Starship, Queen, The Grateful Dead, The Kinks, The Sex Pistols and Styx.

Heavy Metal is the latest craze to sweep the nation. "One definition of 'Heavy Metal' is 'music to kill your parents by.'"

Heavy metal is not new. This type of music has been around since the late sixties. Heavy Metal was pioneered by Jimi Hendrix and Led Zeppelin.

By the early 1970s other British bands, such as Black Sabbath, contributed to the Gothic imagery of today's heavy metal bands.

At one time heavy metal was the complete epitome of rock 'n roll; in a way that it was totally against everything. It was the guys with the longest hair, the grubbier look, and the loudest music. It was everything that everybody else would hate.

Heavy metal mania is in no danger of completely dying out. The reason that heavy metal is so popular is its strong appeal to young boys.

Heavy metal is just Elvis in studs, says Quiet Riot's DuBrow.

There is no question that heavy metal is based on a fantasy medium for young boys. Heavy metal involves a lot of domination and a lot of sexual energy.

Heavy metal is the sexiest and most conservative music there is. It is very hard for these men to see women in positions of power. What seems to young boys is that "heavy metal keeps women barefoot and pregnant."

In heavy metal, if you looks attract audiences, then more power to you. One thing about heavy metal bands is that you can never give them a bad name. Call them horrible, that's good press.

The main audience for heavy metal is high school boys. There is no doubt that heavy metal audiences are faithful. They live and breathe the medium.

The major difference between "pop" and "heavy metal" is that heavy metal audiences do not write off their bands after five years. Heavy metal is the ultimate entertainment form in music, but it's still just entertainment.

Another style of rock is called "Rockabilly."

Kids too callow to have stepped on a blue-suede shoe are showing up at the many rockabilly dances and clubs in full 50's regalia.

At these clubs they dance the night away to local rockabilly bands with their addictive back beat, as they tear through early Presley or their own originals, as they sing about girls, fast cars, and wild parties.

Whatever they wear, newborn rockabillys are clearly garbed for good times. Rockabilly is different from punk rocks anger, drugs, and alienation. The thing that will kill rockabilly is parent approval. The reason is that every type of rock 'n roll is born out of rebellion against what the parents approve of, and might not survive that type of endorsement.

After all, could Elvis have been the king if he had been every mama's boy?

Social issues of the times have always been the subject of rock 'n roll song lyrics. Young rock is alive, maintain many critics, it is boiling, it is fermenting. Mick Jagger is quoted in Rolling Stone as saying:

"There is no future in rock 'n roll. It's only recycled past...Basically, rock 'n roll isn't protest, and never was. It's only—it promotes inter-familial tension. It used to.

"Now it can't even do that, because fathers don't ever get outraged with the music. Either they like it, or it sounds similar to what they liked as kids. So rock 'n roll's gone, that's all gone."

In the words of John Fogerty: "Wrote a song for ev'ryone, Wrote a song for truth, Wrote a song for ev'ryone And I couldn't even talk to you."

Introducing Hancock Bank's SEP Plan:

Employers - Shelter up to $30,000 a year for retirement in an IRA.

Now you can give yourself and your employees up to $30,000 a year toward retirement with our easy-to-run Simplified Employee Pension Plan.

SEP accounts are as easy as IRAs. They reduce your personal taxes while giving you more for retirement than a regular IRA.

They cut your company's tax burden; too. Without the paperwork and expense of other pension plans.

They're available to corporations, partnerships, and self-employed persons. And it's the most flexible pension plan around.

You're not locked in to a set level of contributions. Your company can put in different amounts each year. Up to $30,000 or 15% of an employee's wages (whichever is less). You can even skip years if you want.

Our special Employer Planning Kit will show you how you and your company can benefit from a Hancock Bank SEP Plan.

Call or write Charles Eastland at Hancock Bank for your free copy. But hurry. The deadline for cutting '84 taxes is April 15th.

EAGLE SCOUTS—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith of Bay St. Louis attended a recent Court of Honor ceremony in which their son Mark was elevated to the Eagle Scout rank. He is a senior at Bay High and a member of Troop 208 sponsored by American Legion Post No. 139 in Bay St. Louis. At right is Jeffrey S. Goellner, 17, of Clinton who also was awarded the Eagle Scout rank in recent ceremonies at Holy Savior Catholic Church in Clinton. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Goellner of Clinton and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murtagh of Bay St. Louis who attended the Clinton event. Goellner is a member of Troop 39 sponsored by Holy Savior Council, Knights of Columbus and a junior at St. Joseph High School.

CEHS Star Student, Teacher announced

Senior Chip Sandifer as Coast Episcopal High School's Star Student has selected Linda McCulloch as the Star Teacher.

The guidelines for the Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition are a statewide effort to encourage scholastic excellence and to give recognition of the teaching profession.

Sandifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sandifer of Pass Christian, spent his first two years of high school living in Singapore. Upon his return to Pass Christian, he entered CEHS where he has been an Alpha Honor Roll student, member of the National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, and the Society of Distinguished High School Students, listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students," and received awards in both history and mathematics.

He was a member of the Raider football team. In the game against Trinity Christian Academy, he is credited for six touchdowns.

Rugby is his favorite sport. He is undecided on a choice of college.

McCulloch has been chosen as the Star Teacher three times during her 15 years of teaching history at CEHS. Besides Sandifer, Sharon Anderson in 1976 and Julia Gordon Scales in 1979 selected her.

She grew up in Bay St. Louis. She is a graduate of Millsap College with a BA in history. She now lives in Pass Christian and is active in Christ Episcopal Church.

For colorful and easy Easter treats, bake your favorite flavor cupcakes and ice with ready-to-spread white frosting. Dip each into coconut that has been tinted with your favorite color. Use green and put jelly beans in the center to look like a nest.

To Tint Coconut: Put coconut in a jar or small plastic bag; add a few drops of liquid food color; seal jar or bag and shake until coconut is evenly tinted.

"Eggs-tra Special Eggs"

Coloring eggs is a spring-time tradition the entire family can enjoy! An even bigger thrill for kids and grown-ups alike, is an Easter Egg Hunt in your own backyard.
Follow a few simple guidelines, and eggs will not only be colorful, but safe to eat as well!
• Boil eggs as you normally would, taking extra care not to crack the shells.
• Keep eggs unrefrigerated for a maximum of 2 hours total. This includes dyeing, hiding and hunting time.
• "Found" eggs may be kept (in their shells) and refrigerated for up to one week.
• Any egg that gets cracked in the finding process may be still be safe to eat.

• Be sure to use a food dye in your coloring process. This includes the bottled color you use in baking and the special egg coloring kits you can buy. Egg shells are very porous, if some color did soak through the shell, the eggs would still be safe to eat.

Glaze for Baked Ham
For a glazed ham, remove ham 30 minutes before it is done. Pour drippings from pan. Remove any skin from ham. Score fat surface of ham lightly, cutting uniform diamond shapes. If desired, insert glaze and continue baking for 30 minutes.
Apricot Glaze: Mix 1/2 cup brown sugar (packed), 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon ginger and 1/4 teaspoon salt in small saucepan. Stir in 1 can (12 ounces) apricot nectar and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils. Boil and stir 1 minute. About 1 1/2 cups.
